New Climb In Living Cost Told

Services, Clothing
Increases Push
Price Index Higher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A sharp increase in clothing prices and the continuing rise in the cost of services pushed living cost to a record high in September, the Labor Department reported today.

It added that another rise in living costs was expected this month.

The department's consumer price index advanced to 128.3 in September. This meant that a basket of goods and services that cost $10 in 1949 would have cost $12.83 last month. The previous high was $12.81 last July. The index slipped to $12.80 in August before resuming its rise last month.

Clothing prices normally rise in September. But last month's mark-ups were larger than seasonal and the second biggest in a decade.

Women's and girls' clothing went up 1.9 per cent and men and boys' wear by seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

Most of the increases were on fall and winter lines of cool clothing. The index for women's clothing reached a new high.

Easing the pocketbook pinch were sharp reductions for most fresh fruits and vegetables and a continued drop in poultry prices.

Increases for meats, eggs, restaurant meals and dairy products held the over-all drop in retail food prices to one-tenth of 1 per cent.

The department reported that the average take-home pay of factory workers declined because of the strike at General Motors plants, work interruptions caused in the Gulf Coast region by hurricane Carla and the observance of Jewish holidays in the New York garment industry.

The rise in the general price level further reduced workers' purchasing power.

The department said that "thus far in 1961, consumer prices have advanced by 0.7 per cent, the smallest increase for a January to September period since 1955."

The administration has said it sees no general threat of inflation before the second half of 1962 despite business expansion.

World Protest Defied With Atmosphere Test

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Russia exploded another nuclear bomb in the atmosphere today in defiance of world-wide protests. Shortly afterward President Kennedy gave the go-ahead for a U. S. underground nuclear test. Foreign observers, including the Russians, were invited to watch the U. S. test in New Mexico next December.

Sweden's Uppsala Seismological Institution said the new Soviet blast was a relatively small one. An institution spokesman said it had a force of a "few megatons" of TNT—about one-tenth the size of Monday's super-bomb blast.

Western observers believed the size of the latest nuclear device indicated Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promised 50-megaton bomb blast was still to come despite widespread demands that Russia end its heavy testing series.

The White House announced that the new American nuclear test would be conducted 1,200 feet underground in a salt formation in Carlsbad, N. M. Its aim will be to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy.

President Kennedy invited observers from interested U.N. member nations to witness the shot, to be known as Project Gnome. The White House said the Russians would be free to send an observer if it wanted.

Tests Were Resumed

The United States recently fired three underground shots, following a decision to resume testing after the Russians began their current atmospheric series Sept. 1.

News of Russia's new atmospheric test—the 24th known Soviet nuclear blast since Sept. 1—set off a new round of protests in Sweden and elsewhere.

At the United Nations, the Main Political Committee rejected a Communist attempt to postpone a move for a "solemn appeal" against Russia's planned 50-megaton nuclear explosion.

The U.N. committee voted down a Bulgarian motion to adjourn discussion of a proposal that the appeal be given immediate priority. The committee then rejected a Soviet challenge to the chairman's procedural ruling.

The U.N. storm was stirred by an Iranian proposal that general debate on nuclear tests be interrupted so that action could be taken on a resolution calling on Russia to cancel its announced test.

Swedish Communist party leader Hilding Haberg claimed in Stockholm the big Russian nuclear blast Monday was the 50-megaton bomb.

U.S. Army in Berlin Goes on 5-Hour Alert

BERLIN (UPI) — The U. S. Army put its 6,500-man Berlin garrison on a full alert for more than five hours today in the face of renewed Communist interference with American traffic across the city border.

During the alert, the Army sent three Jeeps of armed soldiers 400 yards into East Berlin as escort for an American-licensed automobile carrying two Army officers dressed in civilian clothing. It was a dramatic reiteration of U.S. rights to travel anywhere in the city.

American and British tank and troop reinforcements moved right up to the border.

The alert was called at 10:10 a.m. and was lifted at 3:35 p.m., Berlin time. It was called before the American automobile was escorted through the Communist checkpoint at the Friedrichstrasse crossing after having been turned back once by East Berlin police.

Halt Army Buses

Later, the Communists halted two U.S. Army buses loaded with 37 American men, women and children taking the regular weekly tour of the city.

The buses returned to West Berlin after more than an hour to avoid harassment of those on board.

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. Berlin commandant, crossed into the Soviet sector and filed a formal protest with Col. A. V. Solov'yev, the Soviet commandant, over the Communist East German tactics.

Informed sources said that during the alert troops were made ready for action. They were called into formation, issued arms and loaded into trucks. Tanks were manned by their crews.

Some troops were sent to pre-designated positions from which they could go into action.

Crowd Watches Incidents

There was a strange carnival air at the Friedrichstrasse as a crowd estimated by West Berlin police at around 1,000 watched the American soldiers take up position.

(The official Soviet Tass news agency accused the United States of "provocative actions." It said the Americans sent soldiers in multi and civilians through the Communist wall into East Berlin in defiance of East German demands to inspect the credentials of all such persons.)

NEWS in BRIEF

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges were called to testify today on whether U. S. exports are aiding the Soviet war machine.

The two cabinet officials faced questioning at a closed hearing by a special five-member House committee created to investigate American trade policies toward the Communist bloc.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California highway deaths so far this year are up 3.28 per cent compared to the first nine months of 1960, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The Patrol said highway deaths through Sept. 30 totaled 2,736, compared to 2,649 last year.

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Rep. James E. Utt, R-Calif., said Tuesday night the United States should withdraw from the United Nations.

Speaking at a meeting of the Propeller Club, Utt said: "Every move the United Nations has made since the United States became a member has been toward the goal of total victory for Communism."

He said the United States was at the peak of its power before joining the U.N. but has declined in proportional military strength and has suffered seriously in prestige since.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A plan to conserve blood for a national emergency has been hailed as "very promising" by Dr. Cecil H. Coggins, chief of the state Disaster Office's Medical and Health Division.

In fact, Coggins said Tuesday, "It may prove to be one of the most valuable suggestions yet made in enabling us to prepare for a national emergency."

Business Nears Breakthrough, M and M Hears

American business is on the threshold of a theoretical and technical breakthrough which will completely change the standing of business employees.

This fact was announced by Peter F. Drucker, management consultant, Montclair, N. J., in a talk before the conferees at the Merchants and Manufacturers Conference at El Mirador Hotel today.

Using the printing industry as an example, Drucker said that within the next 50 years there will be no need for ink, "printing will be done by electronics."

A former newspaperman and author, Drucker said that new methods of teaching were now being studied and would allow the teaching of large groups of persons very quickly.

He struck out at the high cost of residential homes and said that there is no reason why homes should cost so much. He said the municipal and county building codes should be changed, and that in the near future homes would be assembled, instead of built, with the use of pre-cast or formed walls.

His subjects also covered transportation, shipbuilding and automation, which he claimed is being gone about in the wrong way.

The other speaker for today was James Menzies Black, who spoke on the executives responsibility in the development of subordinates.

Tomorrow, the final day of the conference, the speakers will be Milton Friedman, professor of electronics at University of Chicago; Raymond S. Livingstone, vice president of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge, Cleveland, Ohio; and Dale Yoder, professor and director of industrial relations division, Stanford University.

Bill Cook Seeks Supervisor Post

PALM DESERT — William W. (Bill) Cook, long time date rancher in the Palm Desert area, today stepped into the race for supervisor in the Fourth District of Riverside County for the seat being vacated by George Berkey at the end of his current term.

A native of Whittier, Calif., Cook has lived in the Palm Springs - Coachella Valley area since 1913 and took over active management of the family date ranch in Palm Desert in 1927 when his father died.

Cook's background encompasses agriculture, business management, education, water, taxes, land use and resort development.

He is a member of the board of directors of College of the Desert and serves as representative of the College to the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee.

In agriculture, he is president of Riverside County Farm Bureau, a director of Coachella Valley Farmers Association, an alternate to the board of governors of the Council of California Growers and County Committeeman for F.H.A.

Cook has served on the tax committee of the Riverside County Farm Bureau and in both Farm Bureau work and with CVAPC has been interested in zoning.

Knows Resort Area

As a long time resident of Palm Desert and a member of that community's chamber of commerce he says he has become well acquainted with resort activities, potentials and problems in the Fourth District.

Cook has stated he will resign from offices now held in order to actively campaign for the Supervisorial post. The Fourth District is the largest and most diverse in interests in Riverside County.

It extends from Palm Springs to Desert Hot Springs and through the Coachella and Palo Verde valleys to the Colorado River.

Encouraged to Run

Cook said his decision to run followed several weeks of encouragement from unsolicited supporters from all areas of the Fourth District.

"While I have been interested in seeing a well qualified person elected to this office, I had never intended to run myself until I was approached by several men and women vitally interested in county government who said they would support me," Cook said.

In announcing his candidacy, Cook pledged an active campaign aimed at getting the required majority of all votes cast to win the election in the spring primaries.

He said he was anxious to answer many questions on issues of the county or the district from other candidates or from the electorate.

Ribs Broken in Car-Truck Crash

PALM DESERT — Rex Flaherty, 50, Joshua Road, Rancho Mirage, received six broken ribs and lacerations, plus possible internal injuries, when his small imported car collided with a lumber truck at San Anselmo Drive and Catalina Street here at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

GARNET AREA LAND OWNERS WANT DISTRICT INCLUSION

Owners of scattered parcels of lands in the Garnet section north of Palm Springs, ranging in size from five to 640 acres, Tuesday applied to the Coachella Valley County Water District for inclusion within the district so that they may receive domestic water service.

The applications, involving approximately 800 acres, were received by the board of directors of the CVCWD in session at Coachella, and legal advertising was ordered as a forerunner of official action approving the annexations and issuance of orders to hook up the properties to service mains.

Further action is expected to be taken at a meeting of the board on Nov. 14.

Largest of the land units for which water delivery is being sought was a square mile owned by the Palm Springs Panorama subdivision lying north of Ramon Road east of Palm Springs. Hundreds of lots in this development already are receiving water from the CVCWD, which acquired the old Rancho Ramon Water company several months ago.

Numerous five-acre homestead holdings near the 29 Palms Road are covered in other applications received by the district's board.

The new applications for service must go through the ordinary annexation procedures as contrasted with the blanketing in of all existing services at the time of the water company's acquisition. President Leon Kennedy explained as the requests were submitted to the board.

Dozens of other application forms are in the hands of additional property owners in the Garnet areas and are expected to be presented to the board later.

Water mains exist in many of the sections from which the applications are being received and actual hookup for domestic water service needs only await the completion of the formalities connected with annexation.

Possum-Playing Burglar Nabbed With Silver

Playing possum failed to impress Palm Springs police who answered a burglary call at the Joseph Garland (Gar) Moore residence last night.

Joseph Henry Evelyn, 21, of Alberta, Canada, was taken into custody by local authorities after police found two bed sheets filled with silver platters, bowls, chafing dishes, and salt and pepper shakers taken from the home during the night.

Local police received a call from John Morris, a guest in the home, saying that someone was robbing the home.

When police arrived, they said, they found the victim asleep in his bed, and in a back bedroom they found Evelyn laying fully clothed across another bed, pretending to be asleep.

In the trunk of Evelyn's car police found the two sheets containing a total of 21 pieces of silverware.

Dynamite Blasts Teamster Office

NORTH MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—A heavy explosion that police called a dynamite blast tore apart a concrete block building housing the office of a Teamsters Union local Tuesday night. There were no injuries.

Guardsmen for Berlin Derailed In Train Crash

MILES CITY, Mont. (UPI)—A troop train carrying Wisconsin National Guardsmen to Berlin crisis duty piled into a loaded gravel truck at a grade crossing today with an impact that derailed several cars and set the truck and locomotive on fire.

Police said the truck driver was killed, and three trainmen were reported missing in the wreckage. None of the guardsmen, members of Wisconsin's 32nd Red Arrow Infantry Division, was believed seriously hurt.

The Milwaukee Road troop train was heading west with 385 infantrymen headed for training at Ft. Lewis, Wash. The Wisconsin division was one of the first big units called up after the Berlin crisis.

Three miles west of here, the heavy gravel truck pulled across the single track main line from an unguarded rural road. The train's diesel locomotive hit it and the truck's gasoline tank erupted into flames that spread to the big engine.

The locomotive and eight cars of the 21-car train left the track. Two coaches telescoped into each other.

A spokesman at the scene said a conductor and two porters on the train could not be found. It was feared they were trapped in the wreckage of one of the telescoped coaches.

Rescue crews went to work with cutting torches seeking to reach them.

Several guardsmen suffered minor bruises and cuts.

The truck driver was killed. Fire broke out in the wreckage twice while rescuers were trying to remove his body from the wreckage.

Burglar of P.S. Homes Escapes In Seattle

An experienced escape artist, who also has a nationally known ability to take only the best jewelry from private homes, escaped from King County jail in Seattle yesterday.

An all-points bulletin has been issued for the capture of Thomas Raphael Fasenmyer, 31, who last year burglarized Palm Springs homes for a total of $45,000.

After the Palm Springs strikes, he fled to Los Angeles, where he was captured and put into jail. While being transported from his jail cell to a Santa Monica court he sawed the bars out of the window of the bus and escaped. That was last May.

He was captured again in Seattle, and yesterday broke out of the King County jail.

The explosion in the building housing teamsters Local 290 was the second blast in a teamsters union hall in this area within four months. The office of Local 390 in Miami was damaged by a smaller explosion June 28.

The building was unoccupied when the blast wrecked the building.

Police said they knew of no reason why the union hall may have been dynamited.

"They've never had trouble before," said Policeman A.E. Wooten. "It's always been a very orderly union hall."

Wooten said two secretaries, the last persons known to have been in the building, left about seven hours before the blast.

The building is located on a busy thoroughfare near small businesses and homes. The explosion occurred in the heart of the building near filing cabinets which contained union records.

The building's glass front was blown away, an inner wall fell in and the ceiling collapsed. Glass littered the street.

Palm Springs Court of Honor Set for Monday

The first district-wide court of honor for the Palm Springs Boy Scout District will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Cahulla school multipurpose room, chairman Tom Eckstrom announced.

Three star awards will be the top honors given during the ceremony. Star recipients are Jim Shepherd and Denver Mills, both of Troop 81, and Greg Hendrix, Troop 199. Jack Miles, assistant district school superintendent, will present the star awards.

First class award presentation will be made by Al Patane, Cathedral City, and second class awards by Brad Davis, Palm Springs Scout district chairman.

Barton Schuman, new district commissioner, will be the main speaker of the evening, and Dr. George Milkie, district training chairman, will lead singing.

Host troop for the evening is Troop 199, lead by Scoutmaster Robert Ashbaugh.

Airlines OK Settlement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Four major airlines have accepted proposals of a presidential commission for settling the long standing dispute between pilots and flight engineers in jet planes.

The White House said Tuesday that Trans World, Pan American, Eastern and American had notified President Kennedy they agreed to the recommendations made last Tuesday. The recommendations constitute a formula for assigning jobs on jet aircraft.

The White House said there had been no response yet from unions representing the pilots and engineers.

Kennedy Gives Go-Ahead for Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy gave a go-ahead today for a nuclear test to be conducted in a New Mexico salt formation 1,200 feet underground.

He invited observers from interested United Nations countries to witness the shot.

The experiment, known as Project Gnome, will be conducted in about 60 days near Carlsbad, N.M., as part of the Atomic Energy Commission's program to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The White House declined to say specifically whether Russian observers would be welcome, leaving that to be spelled out by the AEC. But the White House said "The United States will welcome observers from interested United Nations countries, as well as news media and the scientific community."

The United States recently fired three underground shots which were announced. In deciding to resume testing after Russia began her atmospheric series, however, the White House made it plain that not all U.S. underground tests would be announced.

Project Gnome is intended to develop information on possible use of byproduct heat from nuclear explosions for power purposes.

It also will permit study of the general effects of such a blast in salt, including the possible recovery or commercially or scientifically valuable isotopes.

New Planning on Berlin by Allies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Western Allies have begun a new stage of Berlin planning made possible by a clearer picture of what West Germany itself wants.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe, in two days of Washington talks, has given a more specific outline than before of what the new Bonn government is likely to accept.

Full details of Grewe's report have not been revealed. Diplomatic sources said he told President Kennedy Tuesday his country would consider a "technical" agreement with East Germany covering civilian land, air, and canal travel to West Berlin, but one which would not formally recognize East Germany.

They said he also discussed a possible big-power agreement with Russia to guarantee Berlin access, perhaps through the United Nations.

Grewe was reported to have listed as absolute necessities a

ALMANAC

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of the year with 67 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1854 some 670 men of an English light cavalry brigade fighting in the Crimean War, charged a heavily protected Russian artillery post at Balaklava. The famous charge, the Charge of the Light Brigade, is one of the most heroic episodes in British military history.

In 1923, the Teapot Dome scandals began to unfold as Sen. Thomas Walsh of Montana demanded a public hearing on the Department of the Interior's easing of two naval oil reserves to private corporations.

In 1964, for the first time, a session of the President's cabinet was televised.

A thought for today: German poet Johann Goethe said, "He only earns his freedom and existence who daily conquers them anew."

U.N. Delegates Optimistic on New Secretary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —United Nations delegates were highly optimistic today that the difficult secretary general problem would be settled by the end of this week.

American and other sources said the drawn-out negotiations on replacing the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold were entering their final stage. They predicted agreement within the next few days.

The apparent progress on the problem that has tied up the organization for six weeks tended to overshadow a Security Council meeting on the membership applications of Outer Mongolia and Mauritania. The council scheduled a session for 3 p.m. EDT and advance word was that both would be approved.

Debate Bogged Down

The main political committee was bogged down in a debate on cessation of nuclear tests. Despite repeated expressions of concern over the arms race and radioactive fallout, the committee has failed to agree on a proposal for a nuclear test moratorium or a "solemn appeal" to Russia to cancel its planned 50-megaton explosion.

There was a general feeling that the United States and Russia were closing the gap rapidly on the question of Hammarskjold's successor. The two powers have agreed on Burma's U Thant as the chief executive, but still differ on the number of under-secretaries.

Stevenson Predicts Agreement

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson gave impetus to the optimism Tuesday when he predicted agreement will be reached this week. In a speech in San Francisco, he said the lack of a secretary general for six weeks had given the United Nations its "most acute crisis."

"Its solution must be found this week, and I believe it will," he said.

$6,000 in Furs Recovered Here

Palm Springs police yesterday made a recovery of some $6,000 worth of furs taken in the Courtney Fur burglary last season.

The lead for the recovery of the two coats came from one member of a gang of fur thieves who is presently doing time in China State Prison. Binem Hamer, who was also a suspect in the local crime.

Lt. Robert White said that Hamer was a member of the gang with Elene Aispuro Sabaria, who was taken into custody here and arraigned for the crime, but who escaped from Border Patrol headquarters in Indio during their interrogation of her there.

She is believed to have fled to Tijuana.

Gromyko Seeking JFK-Nikita Talk

MOSCOW (UPI) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made a strong plea today for negotiations between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Kennedy, it was learned.

"Let Kennedy and Khrushchev preside not over a world catastrophe but over negotiations for an improvement in Soviet-American relations," Gromyko told the 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress, reliable sources said.

Gromyko said the Soviet Union would welcome "any action" from the United States in this direction.

According to persons inside the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses, Gromyko said Kennedy is a Democrat as was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Gromyko pleaded for a return to what he called "the tested policies of the Roosevelt era, which would be a benefit to both people."

Gromyko devoted a large part of his 40-minute speech to stressing the need for negotiations to improve Soviet-American relations. He followed Khrushchev's lead by offering to negotiate an East-West treaty with all Germany.

Threatens Separate Treaty

But Gromyko told the congress that if the West is not willing to negotiate such a treaty, Moscow will sign a peace pact with East Germany alone.

Gromyko also followed Khrushchev's lead in failing to mention a deadline for a separate treaty.

Earlier, more than a dozen other speakers heaped new abuse on Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, and Lazar Kaganovich whose ouster from the party seemed certain.

They were singled out Tuesday for violent criticism by presidium member Nikolai Shvernik.

Speaking to the seventh session of the 22nd Communist party congress, Shvernik accused them of a long list of anti-party and often illegal activities.

Linked With Crimes

He linked Molotov and Malenkov with crimes committed by Nikolai Yezhov and Lavrenti Beria, former Russian secret police chiefs whose names still stand for terror in the minds of most Soviets.

Many of Tuesday's speakers aligned themselves, as expected, with the Kremlin leadership in attacks on Albania — attacks which have created a distinct coolness between Moscow and Peiping.

Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai, who left for home Monday, sent a cable to Khrushchev stressing "great eternal and unbreakable friendship."

Parrot Died Over Tom

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) —Grief over the death a week ago of an 18-year-old tom cat named Blackie was blamed today for the death of Loretta, a 98-year-old parrot owned by Mrs. Anna Fitzsimons.

Mrs. Fitzsimons said Tuesday night the parrot used to sit on one shoulder and the cat on the other while she watched television.

"Loretta never said a word and wouldn't eat at all after Blackie died," she said.

PS Students Join For UN Ceremony

Many desert area residents joined with nearly 1,800 students from three Palm Springs schools and about 60 teachers and administrators yesterday in a colorful United Nations Day ceremony.

Participating in the combined outdoor assembly at Palm Springs High School were students from Nellie Coffman Junior High School, St. Theresa Parochial School and the high school.

Acting as master of ceremonies was Nellie Coffman Principal James Milliron, who first introduced the Color Guard from the Marine Corps of Twentynine Palms.

Boy Scouts stood at attention near the flag, while the Palm Springs High School Band under the direction of Gustave Patzner, and the Nellie N. Coffman Band, directed by Ed Bowman, played the Star Spangled Banner.

The Rev. F. A. Barnhill gave a tribute to the late Dag Hammarskjöld, and touched upon the many tributes which have been paid to him.

Superintendent of Schools Dwight E. Twist spoke to the assembled student body and visitors on the need for better relationships with all people of the world, that we might be able to establish a world of law and justice. Dr. Twist then introduced guests and administrators who were seated on the outdoor platform.

These included Mrs. Donald Marx, who is the Palm Springs United Nations Chairman by appointment of Mayor Frank Bogert of Palm Springs; Sister Mary Paul, mother superior and principal of St. Theresa School; Mrs. Mary Mitchell, Director of Instruction for Palm Springs Schools; Jack Miles Jr., assistant superintendent; Dr. Roy McCall, College of the Desert president; Superintendent John B. Brinegar, Morongo Unified School District; Mrs. Harpo Marx, member of the Board of Education of the Palm Springs Unified School District; Palm Springs High School Foreign Exchange students, Julio Escarguel of Argentina, and Miss Antonio Caveada of Italy, and Dr. Austin Sellery, Palm Springs High School principal.

Mrs. Donald Marx introduced the main speaker of the morning, Dr. Roy McCall, President of the College of the Desert. Dr. McCall pointed out to the assembled students the fact that they would be moulding and shaping the future world. "The world will need some form of government like the United Nations," he said. "It must be achieved if man is to live at all. The United Nations with all its weaknesses is man's best hope for abiding peace."

Anti-Litter Program for County Seen

With reports and recommendations before them on the anti-litter problem, the board of supervisors has decided to seek the advice of District Attorney William O. Mackey before taking further control steps and delayed action for another two weeks.

"The district attorney is the only one who has not been consulted," admitted Administrative Officer Robert Andersen after the assistant county counsel had suggested that he be contacted.

Possibilities under consideration are erection of anti-litter signs along county roads, use of prison labor to clean up the litter, anti-litter education, assistance of cities, schools and organizations, distribution of litterbags, enforcement of existing laws.

Keith Dwyer, safety coordinator, said the cost of signs makes their widespread erection prohibitive. Cost per sign was estimated to be from $30 to $50.

More Money to Rescue Boat

An additional allocation of $235 to cover sales tax on the boat recently purchased for Salton Sea patrol and rescue work was approved by the board of supervisors as recommended by Administrative Officer Robert Andersen. The complete price was $6046.90.

The 22-foot 10 horsepower Bartender was purchased from Calkins Craft Boat Co. of McMinnville, Ore., with fish and game fine monies. It is to be available at all times to employees of the State Department of Fish and Game for conservation and enforcement of the F & G code, but will be under the supervision of the sheriff and used for rescue operations.

Live Together, or Die Together, Adlai Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said Tuesday night there can be no quick victory in either the cold war or a hot one and "since we don't wish to die together, we must manage to live together."

He told the San Francisco chapter of the American Association for the United Nations on the 16th anniversary of the United Nations that "we may have had our fill of negotiations—but there is a lot more to come."

Stevenson said the capability of mutual destruction possessed by Russia and the United States is an "ugly vision from which humanity cannot awake because it is not a dream but a reality—a reality into which threats of violence only plunge us deeper still."

The ambassador said it may be many years before the "gulf" between the world of the free and the world of the coerced "is safely closed, but the 'stern fact' is that we are in this struggle for life."

Power and domination are not the aims of the United States, he said.

"If they were, if all we could offer were the crushing of Soviet tyranny by a tyranny of our own, then indeed we would have no title whatever to call for sacrifice from a single free man or woman," Stevenson added.

He said U. S. aims which are worthy of sacrifice include: "A complete and completely controlled program of world disarmament."

"A multiplication of free and friendly contacts with the Soviet people—until in the fullness of time

Through With Politics for Now

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — Former state Director of Motor Vehicles Robert I. McCarthy says he is through with politics for the present.

McCarthy who resigned his state post last August as a result of a clash with Gov. Edmund G. Brown, told a Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday that he has no aspirations for the governorship nor for any other public office.

Planners Back Indio On Highway

INDIO — The Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee, meeting at the Indio Bowl, has thrown its influence behind the Indio city administration for routing of a freeway from here to Palm Desert for State Route (SR) 111.

Indio has asked that the route be planned along Avenue 48, or south of Avenue 46, and immediately west of Indio wants the highway to run due west south of Avenue 47. (The present route uses Avenue 46.)

Immediately west of Indio the highway is to run due west along Avenue 48 to a point where a diagonal to the northwest would strike the diagonal portion of the present highway to Point Happy. Then, the recommendation is for the highway to run north of the Whitewater River Channel from Point Happy through Indian Wells to Palm Desert.

The advisory committee has spent several years attempting to solve the problem of routing Highway 111 through the floor of the desert in an attempt to keep from splitting the famed Blue Chip Strip from the resort area with a highway.

The planners adopted a resolution to district highway engineer Jacob Dekeme in San Diego asking for early studies of their proposed route and for a hearing on which to base selection of a route as soon as possible. Copies of the resolution were also sent to Riverside County members of the California legislature, Assemblyman Gordon Cologne and State Sen. L. M. Backstrand.

Not Book, Telephone!

REDDING, Calif. (UPI) — Mrs. Fraser Powlison shook her husband in the wee small hours of the morning Tuesday and asked him to hand her a book on natural childbirth.

Powlison decided this was no time to read a book, called her obstetrician, and delivered their first child by instructions given over the telephone.

Then Powlison, an elementary school teacher and former reporter for the San Diego Union, took his wife and new son 10 blocks to the hospital. Doctors said all three members of the family were in excellent condition.

Ike Blames Kennedy for Fiscal Confusion, Attacks Peace Corps

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dwight D. Eisenhower blamed President Kennedy Tuesday night for fiscal confusion which he said could leave Americans holding shrunken-value "dollarettes."

The former president also took his successor's administration to task for the Peace Corps, which he called a "juvenile experiment."

Although Eisenhower came to New York to boost the mayoral candidacy of GOP state Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz against Democrat Mayor Robert F. Wagner, his mightiest blows were aimed at Kennedy and the administration's fiscal policies. He spoke at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner for the Republican city ticket.

Eisenhower called Kennedy's expenditures "incomprehensible," and asked, "If we can't pay our debts, what's going to happen to this country?"

Eisenhower called the Peace Corps a "juvenile experiment" launched to "spend money."

"We have postcard evidence that the people sent (on Peace Corps missions)...didn't even know what an underdeveloped country was."

The ex-president was referring to the postcard dropped by Peace Corps member Margery Michelmore in Nigeria, which touched off a protest rally by Nigerian students.

Miss Michelmore has since been reassigned to the Peace Corps training center in Puerto Rico.

"If you want to send a man to the moon, send a Peace Corps member up there," advised Eisenhower. "It is an undeveloped country."

Barry Hosts Holiday Show

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gene Barry, whose career as television's Bat Masterson has ended, will serve as host for "An Old Fashioned Thanksgiving," the one-hour special on the ABC network at 10 p.m. Nov. 21. Charlton Heston, Eddie Foy Jr., Richard Kiley, Dick Button and Betty Johnson are some of the others who will participate in this musical melange tied to the Thanksgiving theme.

"Johnny Dollar," which has been a CBS radio feature since 1949, is headed for TV. Project III Enterprises of Hollywood has acquired the rights to this adventure series and plans to create a weekly half-hour series.

Charles Bickford will be the star of the pilot film to be made in Hollywood in November for the projected one-hour adventure series called "House of Seven."

Youngsters at 29 Palms Have 5,000 Big Brothers

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The boys and girls at the Marine Corps Base have more than 5,000 big brothers, when it comes to youth activities.

In this military community, the young people have a full schedule of activities that include, Little League ball for boys and girls, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and Cub Scouts, rifle teams, the Junior Safety Patrol and the Teen Club.

The well-rounded activities are sponsored by organizations here at the Base and individual members serve as coaches, officials, Scoutmasters, Den Mothers, instructors and advisors.

The Little League has a large following. Last year, the Twenty-nine Palms All-Stars played against the Palm Springs Rotary team in post-season play. The Pony Tail League drew a large turnout and had a big corps of rooters during their Saturday morning games.

As part of the dependents activities, the Marines here built a ball field just for the younger set, complete with bleachers and grass infield.

The rifle club, one of the more popular activities here, uses the regular rifle range during the weekends. Here the younger boys and girls are instructed in the proper use of rifles according to the National Rifle Association rules.

Mountains Found

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. survey ship has discovered a long chain of mountains under the northern Pacific Ocean just south of Alaska and the Aleutian islands, the Commerce Department said today. There are 34 mountains, rising 3,000 to 6,000 feet, and extending about half the distance to the Hawaiian islands.

ties for the young people at Marine Corps Base is the Scouting program. The Base sponsors a Boy Scout troop, a Cub Scout Pack, a Girl Scout and Brownie organization. Parents and single Marines alike take part in the Scouting program that is part of the Arrowhead Council of San Bernardino.

Teen-agers here have the full support of the Base. The Teen Club takes part in many base activities, such as cheer leading at football games, participating in the Angel View Cripple Children's year drive and assisting in the community work as a group.

Own Building
It has a building of its own on the base where it holds dances and social get-togethers. The group takes sight seeing trips around Southern California under the direction of their sponsors, usually several married officers and their wives.

The Junior Safety Patrol, schooled by the base safety director, stands guard for the younger children during the time for school bus travel.

Maj. Charles A. Webster, chairman of the youth activities committee said recently, "Youth clubs of today are playing an important part in President Kennedy's program for physical and moral development of our leaders of tomorrow."

JUNIOR RIFLE CLUB, vouched for by Headquarters and Service Company, Marine Corps Base, is schooled in proper gun handling and sportsmanship. Here First Sergeant Doyle Berry starts the shooters on their way with instruction on proper sling adjustment.

State on Way To Clean Air

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California is "well along the road" back to clean air, according to the chairman of the state Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board. Dr. John T. Middleton of Riverside said Monday that the state has taken "positive action" to fight smog in Southern California which costs each person about $50 a year in corrosion, damage to exhausts, he said, and praised California as the first state to enact a control program for motor vehicle emissions.

Two of 1,000 Head for CYA

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Nearly two out of every thousand young persons in the state were committed as first offenders to a California Youth Authority (CYA) correctional institution last year, according to the CYA annual report.

The report, released Monday, showed that CYA accepted 4,861 initial referrals from juvenile and criminal courts for a rate of 170.1 youths per 100,000 10 to 20 year-old population. The rate compared with 139.3 per 100,000 in 1950.

The number of commitments was 12.5 per cent higher than 1950 and 240 per cent higher than 1950, when the state's population was considerably less.

SOMETHING SEEMS WRONG AT CURRENT RED CONGRESS

LONDON (UPI) — Something appears to have gone wrong at the current 22nd Communist Party Congress in Moscow.

Ranking Iron Curtain diplomats in London appear to be puzzled, and indicate they have been taken by surprise by what has been happening in Moscow. Experts on Soviet affairs agree the congress has turned into something different from what was planned.

The party congress was designed, according to earlier official pronouncements, to receive and sanction Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's new party program—the new Red program that is to determine the future of Russian and international communism for the next two decades.

This major issue appears now

Won't Change Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Monday the United States had no reason to change its opinion that its copper cloud satellite does not endanger science.

The U.S. project to spread 350 million tiny copper wires in space has brought protests from Russia and some Western scientists that the particles might interfere with radio astronomy and other research.

Observers believe the "deviation" may have been motivated by pressures at home and the stand, the rally has turned into a antiparty activities at home and intrabloc troubles abroad.

Khrushchev, who may have hoped to present to the congress a list of major achievements along with his new party program, has not been able to point to telling successes.

Demos to Hear Alan Cranston

State Controller Alan Cranston will be guest of honor at a no-host breakfast to be staged next Monday by the Palm Springs Area Democratic Club, according to Stanley Spiegelman, president.

ALAN CRANSTON

Cranston, who has been state controller since 1959 and is the first Democrat to occupy the office in nearly three quarters of a century, is coming to Palm Springs to attend a convention of assessor, Spiegelman said.

Invitations have been sent out for the affair, scheduled for 8 a. m. Monday in the Chi Chi, but it is open to all interested residents, Spiegelman reported.

Cranston, a Stanford graduate and a news correspondent in Europe during pre-World War II years, was elected president of the California Democratic Council in 1953, 1955 and 1957. He also is the author of an anti-Nazi version of Mein Kampf, which sold 500,000 copies.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Return from Berkeley

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson D. Ellis are back at their desert home on Hillcrest following another summer spent at their home in Berkeley. Again this year Ellis was in Indianapolis photographing the Memorial Day Races. While he was away Mrs. Ellis spent a week at Lake Tahoe.

Mid-week guests at the Sunair Terrace Apartments included Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Craun from Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly McCann from Tulsa, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoke of Sun City, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin V. Hoffman who were here for several days from their home in Los Angeles. At the Sunair Terrace for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James F. Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cunningham from Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Dean McGaughey who make their home in Laguna Beach.

Recovery Room Lack Causing Patient Deaths

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Many hospitals allow patients just out of surgery to die because they are not equipped with recovery rooms staffed with trained personnel, the American Society of Anesthesiologists (ASA) said Tuesday.

The organization of Medical Doctors who specialize in administering of anesthesia is holding its annual convention here. Dr. James S. West, USC School of Medicine and General Hospital Anesthesiologist, read the statement in which he said many hospitals still remove patients from surgery directly into wards where they lie unwatched for dangerously long periods.

He said breathing obstructed by blood clots, hemorrhaging, drug effects or changes in blood pressure or pulse can kill quickly. West said a recovery room should be under supervision of a qualified anesthesiologist.

Dr. John Bonica said hospitals do not have recovery rooms either because the medical staff has failed to recommend one or because the hospital has not followed the recommendation.

Dr. and Mrs. Meyer Davis of San Jose have taken an apartment at the Melrose for the winter, and frequent visitor Franklin W. Robinson of Long Beach was here for a weekend of golf.

After spending a week with their daughter and family, the Lou DeGrucios, at their home on Palo Verde Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sofi left Tuesday for their home in Lakewood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hornsten left Sunday for their home in Los Angeles after spending last week at the Palos Verdes Apartments. There during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Seidenschlag of Monterey Park, Howard A. Gunkle from Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilson of San Diego, and Mr. B. Munsey from Alpine.

Weekend guests at the Palos Verdes included Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Farley and frequent guests Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bourne from Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Petersen from Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barth of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Douglas from Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Cline, who make their home in San Luis Obispo, are spending this week at the Palos Verdes Apartment Motel.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dyckman enjoyed 10 days in Wasco, visiting at the homes of his daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Carlson, and his son and family, the Harold Dyckmans.

BAREFOOT AND RAGGED, these pre-school children of Jacalepa, Honduras, are typical of those who receive a treat—a free cup of milk—through the United Nations Children's Fund

United States Must Start Nuclear Tests

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, said Tuesday that the United States would fall behind in development of nuclear weapons if it does not begin testing in the atmosphere.

If the Soviet Union continues to conduct atmospheric tests while the U.S. "stayed underground" we would fall behind, Seaborg said. But he declined to estimate how long it would take for a noticeable lag to become apparent.

As for the Soviet's test Monday of a bomb in the 30-30 megaton range, Seaborg told a press conference: "We could easily develop a bomb the size which Russia detonated yesterday."

He said, however, there is no advantage in testing such large bombs in the atmosphere.

Russia, he said, exploded the super bomb "for reasons other than science." Smaller weapons tests already had proved they could build such a super-bomb, he said.

In a luncheon speech before 1,200 scientists, Seaborg predicted that a nuclear-powered upper stage for space exploration could be flight tested by 1966-67. He referred to the Nerva propulsion unit being developed by Aerojet-General and Westinghouse.

Advance Children's Fund Gifts May Go to Banker

Emmett Connors, local treasurer for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund for milk and medicine, has announced that advance UNICEF fund contributions now total enough for 73,000 glasses of milk.

The local UNICEF committee, headed by Mrs. Donald Marx, is concentrating on an effort to double the funds raised in the Palm Springs area last year — which amounted to 1,500,000 glasses of milk.

California Guard Ready for Bands

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The California National Guard now has at least 20,000 men ready to move against any wartime guerrilla bands or other lawless elements, the Guard reported today.

Maj. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, adjutant general, made his remarks in commenting on action Monday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in assigning the guard to the job of implementing the state's civil defense program.

Hill said the Guard's first mission in emergency would be to assist the Army and Navy and to keep order and restore communications.

The latest electronic microscopes can distinguish bits of matter 1-30,000,000 of an inch in diameter.

In addition to the contributions that will be gathered by children of the area in their "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" on Halloween, donations from interested residents will be accepted by Connors.

Checks payable to UNICEF may be sent in care of Emmett Connors at the Security First National Bank, Ramon Road and Indian Avenue, Palm Springs.

Many anonymous gifts have been received, along with 2,500 glasses of milk from the Ramon Drug Co. and 38,000 from the Thursday Night Men's Club, Mrs. Marx said.

Palm Springs Mayor Frank M. Bogert has joined with President John F. Kennedy in urging the cooperation of all residents in the effort for UNICEF funds.

The mayor, in a special proclamation, has designated Oct. 31 as a holiday for children and asks that local residents share in the program by contributing to the "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

$80,000 Suit on Chloromycetin

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—The parents of a 2-year-old girl who died in a Long Island hospital last year have brought an $80,000 damage suit against a physician for giving the child repeated doses of Chloromycetin, it has been disclosed.

The action brought by attorney Samuel Brill in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Keller of Hicksville, N.Y., accused Dr. Bernard A. Schmierer of Jericho, N.Y., of malpractice in administering Chloromycetin to the Keller's daughter, Elizabeth, inducing a fatal illness—aplastic anemia.

The suit said Schmierer prescribed Chloromycetin for Elizabeth five times — for a common cold, infected finger and eye sty. It said he did this without "exercise of reasonable skill and caution," in violation of caution and warnings published by Parke, Davis and Co., manufacturers of the drug, and the federal Food and Drug Administration.

It said Schmierer did not take blood tests to determine the effect of the drug on Elizabeth, as suggested by Parke, Davis, and did not warn or advise the Kellers of the "dangers and risks" inherent in the use of the "potent" and "hazardous" drugs. The suit noted that warnings on the drug also were issued by the Council on Drugs of the American Medical Association and other authoritative sources of information disseminated among physicians.

Consequently, Elizabeth fell ill with "aplastic anemia," a blood condition akin to leukemia, which caused her to "suffer distress and anguish," the suit said. The condition became incurable and "caused her death" in August 1960. The child had been in the hospital five months.

BRINGING HOME the beef for the big western chuck wagon dinner of the valley-wide Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce homecoming party Saturday is chef Merold Young. Palm Desert Puts Out Red Carpet

PALM DESERT — The symbolic red carpet — actually a sprinkling of sawdust on the Welcome Oasis parking lot — is out here for the entire Coachella Valley here.

The event is the first valley-wide edition of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce Homecoming party, which begins with a western chuck-wagon dinner at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Dick Coffin, president of the chamber of commerce, and Don McNeilly, chamber manager, emphasized that returning Palm Desert residents are welcoming all their neighbors to join in the entertainment-packed fall celebration.

"It should be the best as well as the biggest of our popular homecoming parties," McNeilly said.

Merold Young, Palm Springs restaurateur, will cater barbecued beef and barbecued ham dinners, complete with ranch beans, chuck-wagon pan bread, and all the western trimmings. Refreshments will be available with a frontier flair. At 8:30 p.m., recording and television stars Curt Massey and Martha Tilton will present the first of two shows of the evening. The second performance is slated for 10 p.m. Between shows, a rollicking band will play, and dancing will continue to midnight, dancing on an 800 square-foot dance floor and special entertainment acts are scheduled.

Telephone Changes Bring Grief to Most All of Us

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A lady who works for the telephone company has sent me a little booklet along with a polite note suggesting that I have been laboring under a misapprehension. Frankly, I have labored under worse things than misapprehensions. Not mentioning any names, but a couple of city editors of past acquaintance spring to mind. That, however, is beside the point.

This booklet explains the reasons why the phone company is switching over to "All Number Calling" (ANC), a system that substitutes digits for the letters of exchange names currently in use.

It avers that "ANC" is "a necessary change" and implies that those of us who object to having our exchanges shot out from under us are standing flat-footed in the road of progress.

Gives Equal Time

Very well, Fair is fair. Since I recently set forth the reasons why I deplored the switch, I am willing to grant the phone company equal time.

The company points out that there are only 40 usable two-letter combinations on a telephone dial. These can be numbered 1 through 9, thus giving a possible

DESERT HOT SPRINGS

Visitor Finds Mineral Hot Springs Beneficial

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Mrs. Grace Stewart Mullens, founder and president of the famed Redlands Bowl and her companion, Mrs. Fern Willmunder are spending a week at the Trade Winds Motel here. Mrs. Mullens finds the hot mineral baths beneficial and plans to return at frequent intervals this winter.

A wee bit of Scotland invaded Desert Hot Springs last Thursday as 45 members of the Lady MacKenzie Lodge of the Daughters of Scotland arrived by bus from Santa Monica. Among them were 88-year-old Mrs. Margaret Pearson and Fred Davis, who celebrated his 89th birthday.

Luncheon at Hayden's Restaurant was followed by a swim party and high tea at Karaula's Motel. Hostesses were Mrs. Hugh Colledge of Desert Hot Springs and Mrs. Peggy Nicol of Palm Springs, president of the lodge.

Dixie and Harry Crandall have sold their Blue Water Manor to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ecklund of San Diego. Mrs. Ecklund is a sister of Frank Wilson, owner of the Trade Winds Motel.

The Crandalls will spend the winter in Palm Springs then travel for several months before taking a permanent residence here.

While Ben Schrader is on an extended visit in Indiana, his niece and nephew, the Charles Gilmans of Bourbon, Ind., are spending a fortnight at his home on Second Street.

Mrs. Aaron L. Eaton who recently underwent surgery at Parkview Hospital in Riverside is now recuperating at home. Mrs. Eaton's daughter, Mrs. Elsie Ryman of Boise, Idaho, arrived for an extended visit.

Bob Thorpe, who was a surgical patient at Parkview Hospital, is home again and well on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Harry Mendel planed home to Atlanta, Ga., after spending a month here as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron O. Galvin. During her stay Mrs. Mendel was guest of honor at several parties and luncheons. Among them was a luncheon for 33 hosted by Mrs. Jennie Frank and her niece, Mrs. Morris Altman of Desert Hot Springs at the Chi Chi in Palm Springs. A feature of the luncheon was a large silver and white wedding cake served in honor of Mrs. Mendel's 25th wedding anniversary.

Hawaii is the destination of Mrs. Lillian Records, a former resident here and a life member of the Desert Hot Springs Women's Club. Mrs. Records planes out this week with a party of seven for a 10-day in the islands.

Jimmy Smith hosted a surprise dinner party for his parents, Lola and Jake Smith last Thursday in honor of their 32nd wedding anniversary. Cake, candles and bouquet of long stemmed yellow roses — Lola's favorite flowers — made the occasion a festive one.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cannea of Chicago climaxed an extensive tour of California with a visit here at the home of their friends, the J. H. Mattheisens.

Canadian tourists Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crause, who have been motoring through the Southwest, are on their way home to Victoria, B.C., following a stay here with their sister and brother-in-law, the Bert Hines.

A first time visitor to Desert Hot Springs was Mrs. N. S. Ham-mack who motored down from Menlo Park for a brief visit with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Ream.

Things are buzzing at Thelma and Roy Smythe's Circle B. Ranch. Construction is under way on five cottages and a home is now being built for Leo Brennan of Arcadia.

Visitors at the J. C. McGee home last weekend included Mrs. McGee's daughter, Mrs. June Crompton of Canoga Park and her friend, Mrs. Jezebel Scott.

More Money Needed for Anti-Trust Enforcement

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state attorney general's office needs at least $45,000 more to enforce state antitrust laws being violated in gas price wars, according to a representative of retail gas station owners.

John Touhey, executive secretary of the International Service Station Association, told an interim Assembly committee on manufacturing, oil and mining that Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk told him his antitrust division needs that amount more for law enforcement.

Touhey and Coy Aires, executive secretary of the California Federation of Service Stations, both testified the price wars are the fault of major oil companies.

Aires said station owners must comply with price fixing of major oil companies or face lease cancellations.

He said many independent station owners went out of business the first six months of this year because of price wars.

But Dan Lundberg, representing the California Petroleum Market-state attorney general's office needs at least $45,000 more to enforce state antitrust laws being violated in gas price wars, according to a representative of retail gas station owners.

He said the wars are the result of a "follow the leader" philosophy on the part of station operators.

He said that in his opinion subsidies by major companies to their dealers come only after price cuttings have been on for some time.

CHARITY GAME TO HELP

Anniversary Nears Of Sports Tragedy

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It was just a year ago Oct. 29 that a plane carrying a band of Cal Poly football players crashed in the Midwest, killing 17 and maiming many others for life.

It was one of the worst sports disasters in history and today the survivors in San Luis Obispo, Calif., the home of the small school, still are in trouble.

The result is that there'll be a Mercy Bowl grid game played in Los Angeles Nov. 23 between Bowling Green and, probably Fresno State.

The promoters hope to raise $300,000 to help the survivors and pay off some of the costs of the tragedy—costs that still hang and are mounting every day. The list is tremendous:

—One grider still is taking treatments, has a $28,000 hospital bill and sees nothing bright for the future.

—Funeral expenses for the 17 men still haven't been paid.

—One football player left a wife and four children, all under six years of age.

—Two players still are under medical care and probably will be for the rest of their lives.

And so it goes on through the list.

Insurance Loophole

The airline that was carrying the team to its day of doom went bankrupt, and the insurance company found a loophole on this basis that it did not have to pay off. Not a nickel's worth of insurance ever was collected.

The college did have an NCAA

Boosters Back Off Academics

The Palm Springs Boosters Club turned its back on academic boosting in favor of the more familiar athletic brand — at least temporarily — at its meeting Monday night. The club voted to concentrate exclusively on football boosting.

The move was approved by a close vote in spite of the fact that a committee of the club is studying methods to recognize and boost academic activities at the high school.

"We should boost athletics and academics in their season," explained John Sparger, who made the motion to restrict activity.

Nicklaus Tabbed as Golfer With the 'Golden Touch'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The new, and oft-denied whisper that U.S. amateur champion Jack Nicklaus is about to turn professional is gathering so much momentum today that it must have been heard in Australia.

Arnold Palmer, "down under" for a tour with Gary Player, reports for home consumption that he still hopes to make the big grand slam. That would be victory in one year in the U.S. and British opens, the PGA and the Masters.

"But it looks more difficult all the time," Palmer asserts, "because of my age (32) and the ever-increasing competition."

And you can bet that it will be a lot tougher all the way around if young Mister Nicklaus decides to concentrate all his efforts on the pro tour.

Few In Contention

Ask any of the perennial winners and they'll tell you that when the field tees off in one of the big ones, such as the Open or the Masters, there are no more than a scattered dozen who have a chance to grab the gold ring.

That's why the Palmers and the Players dominate the scene and why such non-skid oldsters as Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan still always are rated threats even in the twilight of their careers. Occasionally a long shot slips in, but this merely serves to prove that the handful of stars are human.

Has Golden Touch

Nicklaus, even as an occasional player, is one of these who is born with the golden touch. Devoting all his time to the tour, as several sources insist he currently is contemplating, he would swiftly take his place in that dominating upper echelon. Palmer does well to worry if Nicklaus turns pro. Because as an amateur the burly 21-year-old from Columbus, Ohio, has had the best of them biting their fingernails.

Consider last year, as example. In the U.S. Open, won by Palmer, Nicklaus finished second a mere two shots back. His 282 total was a record low for an amateur in Open play. Yet this was far from being his finest fairway hour.

That came in the world amateur team championships at Merion. They played the same course, virtually in the same condition as when Ben Hogan captured the Open there in 1950.

18 Shots Better

Hogan shot 287, Nicklaus carded 269 — 18 shots better than Hogan's winning score.

The two-time amateur champion's rounds were 66-67-68-68, unbelievable over those demanding Merion acres. That 66, incidentally, broke the amateur course record which had stood untouched for 34 years.

This year, Nicklaus was low amateur in the Open once again, his 284 leaving him in a tie for fourth just three shots behind winning Gene Littler.

Nicklaus long has denied any pro ambitions, having a spot waiting in his father's drug store chain. He began playing at 10 when his dad broke an ankle and, with walking prescribed, turned to golf and took the boy along. If Nicklaus does turn pro, the elder Nicklaus' fracture well could be one of the worst breaks Palmer ever suffered.

WESTWARD HO OPENS

INDIO — Westward Ho Golf Club, the Coachella Valley's newest course, will hold its official fall opening Sunday, Oct. 29 with a nine hole mixed foursome competition and potluck supper. Halloween will be the theme of activities and the golfers, identified as witches and spooks, will play on a best-ball with handicap basis.

Springs Golfer At Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C. — Richard H. Guelich, Jr., of Palm Springs and Carl E. Haymond of Los Angeles are California entrants among the 370 players entered in the 10th annual North and South Invitation Seniors' Golf Championship being played this week over the five courses at the Pinehurst Country Club.

day. The women are currently playing nine holes and taking group instruction from Beverly Hanson, recently appointed club professional at Westward Ho. Miss Hanson was honored by the group at a club party last week.

Westward Ho, which 10 months ago was only a rolling dune and is located three miles west of Indio just north of Highway 111. J. E. Gurley of Indio is president of both the golf club and Westward Ho Estates. At present the course, featuring "carefree, relaxed desert living in the best of the old west tradition," consists of nine holes and a practice range but work is already in progress on an additional nine holes.

Husky Tackle is Tops in Line

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Washington Husky tackle John Meyers has been named Big Five "line-man of the week" for the sixth week of the 1961 season.

The 240 pound Husky co-captain was a bulwark on defense and a rough blocker all afternoon as Washington blanked Stanford 13-0 Saturday.

Back of the week honors went to Southern California quarterback Pete Beathard. The soph signal-caller clicked on 10 of 14 passes for 152 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 52 yards more as Southern California beat California, 28-14, Saturday.

SHUFFLEBOARD PLAYERS IN BID FOR STATE TITLE TODAY

Palm Springs District shuffleboard champion Bill Barrows and some 20 other members of the local shuffleboard fraternity are in Long Beach this week to participate in the California State Shuffleboard Championships.

Barrows, who lives at the Tramview Trailer Park, Cathedral City, won the district title last March in the tournament here. The state title matches started Monday and will be decided in finals games today.

According to local sources, about 250 state shuffleboard players are participating in the Long Beach games to determine California's champion player. Also attending from the desert area is Ray Clarke of Sahara Park, who is governor of the Palm Springs district.

Weekly Tournaments
With the opening of the new desert season, the weekly interpark shuffleboard tournaments will soon begin, according to Austin Snyder of Tramview, who is an organizer of the play.

The shuffleboard series of games is culminated with the city-sponsored March district championships in which the men's and ladies' title-holder is determined. Current ladies' champion is Dorothy Dugich, of Ramon Park, who is not competing in the state finals.

Most of the local trailer parks have shuffleboard clubs which are members of the district organization. Each is eligible to send five players to the state finals which accounts for the large contingent from the desert area.

Another officer of the local district is Leroy Thomas of Suntown Park in Cathedral City.

A high game of 223 bowled by Art Davies was best single effort in the City Employees league at PS Lanes, while Hoot Valdez rolled a 583 series to top that category. High woman's game was turned in by Barbara Miller and Judy Smith in a tie at 156, while Beverly Russell's 406 series was high.

The Left-handers pulled out of the cellar in the Desert Sidewinder's league as Dick Soran, George Sylvester and John McGarry had 500 plus series. They beat the Aloha boys, 3-1. Team two and team six downed a tough Restaurante Giorgio crew and McKinney's Market by 3-1 scores, as Swede Davis had high game and series at 242 and 629.

In the Coral league, Norm Shane had high game and series at 223 and 556 but could salvage only one game from the Hallmark TV. Card Castle sank Prudential Escrow, 4-0, and Desert Air and Hollinger and Pack 4-some took 3-1 matches from Security Bank and Burgener and Harris. League high game and series for women was bowled by Helen Specht at 192 and 509.

Meet An Indian

KIRBY ERICKSON, halfback, uniform No. 33, is a promising sophomore although he is out for the season because of undulant fever. The youngster hopes to return next year to become a cog in Coach Bunting's team. He lives with his parents at 71-415 Estelita Drive, Rancho Mirage.

Tight Bowling In League Play

It was a tight night of bowling for the Franchise league last night at PS Bowl as two matches ended 2-2 while the other went 3-1. Hoams Pools and Southern California Gas Co., battled even as did Paul's Associates and Oasis Plumbing. Local 73 edged Chuck's Welding 3-1.

In the Industrial league, King's Construction took the only 4-0 match of the night over Mayfair Market, while both El Jacal and Fred's Texaco edged 1000 Palms Richfield and DHS Fire department, 3-1.

John Marinko had high series for the night at 377 with a 211 high game. Fred's Texaco took high three-game series at 2836.

Blind Partner's Play Featured by Ladies

A blind partner's tourney was the feature event Tuesday at the Palm Springs Municipal course by the Ladies Golf Club.

Winners were a team composed of Frances Ripley and Shirley Cooper, while Del Linick and Virginia McLaughlin teamed to win second, and Barbara Coffman and Elizabeth Courtwright finished third.

Guest flight was won by Helen Chambers.

The ladies will team with the Men's Golf Club on Nov. 12 for a Jack and Jill tourney. Their next weekly tourney will be Oct. 31.

The Los Angeles Blades were in the thick of the Southern Division scramble of the Western Hockey League today, thanks to their veteran goalie Marcel Pelletier.

Pelletier, who earned second all-league honors last year blocked 35 shots in a furious night around the nets as the Blades edged Calgary 5-4 before 2,400 fans. Spokane thumped San Francisco 6-3 in other action.

Los Angeles grabbed a quick lead against Calgary as Danny Belisle fired two quick goals and rookie Terry Slater added another.

The Stampers ever could come back, but kept the action around the embattled Pelletier most of the night as shown by the fact that goalie Art Lariviere of the Stampers blocked only five shots in the final 40 minutes and just 18 all night.

Pelletier almost handed away the hard-earned victory when he cleared directly onto the stick of Fred Hucul from outside the net in the third period. Hucul scored

TEE-TIME WITH BOB

Hope Nearly as Good Golfer as Comedian

During the Second Annual Palm Springs Golf Classic last spring a TV camera crew filmed some scenes at Bermuda Dunes Country Club with Bob Hope, one of the many celebrity participants in the tournament.

According to Ernie Dunlevie publicity chairman of the Palm Springs Golf Classic, some of this film will be included in "The World of Bob Hope" over the NBC-TV network (Channel 4), Sunday, Oct. 29, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Some of the experts say Bob Hope could be a tournament golf champion — if he could only find the time. To hear him talk about it, though, as he will in "The World of Bob Hope," the golf would seem to be chiefly a laugh-getter.

"I had a fresh kind of caddy that day," Hope says in an on-stage monologue about his life in golf. "He kept looking at his watch. I said to him, 'Are you in a hurry? What are you looking at your watch for?' He said, 'This isn't a watch, it's a compass.' 'You must be the worst caddy in the world,' I said. 'Hardly,' he said. 'That would be too much of a coincidence.'"

Hope also recalls his golfing days with Jack Benny and Bing Crosby. "Jack played golf up until last year," he says. "He lost his ball—the string broke."

He says he can't get Crosby out on the golf course much any more. "We did play a few months ago at Palm Springs," Hope says. "He got up on the first hole and took a terrific swing at the ball, missed it, and threw himself out of bounds, got up and took another full swing at the ball and missed it again. There were two little ants on the ground, and one ant said to the other, 'Let's get up on this ball before this guy kills us!'"

There is serious talk, though, when the cameras catch Hope talking with his coach during a Palm Springs tournament. "How do you like the way I'm stroking them?" he asks.

"I like it very much, Bob," says Joe Penna. "A lot better than you were doing last year. Great!"

And Hope looks as pleased as if he had just got a great laugh on-stage.

The cameras also catch Hope in a third-round match with Frank Chuti during the Second Annual Palm Springs Golf Classic at Bermuda Dunes Country Club. It wouldn't be Hope, though, without some laughs. After a bad putt, he looks straight into the camera shouting, "Kill all that film! Let's get a new camera crew."

League Play In Putt Putt Starts Soon

Handicaps are now being established in putt putt golf at the Ramon Road course for the weekly Tuesday tournaments.

In an open league play competition this week, Clarence Mroch was the only one to come in under 100 as his 98 paced the field for the three-round course. He pulled out two 31 rounds to go with a 36. Only other 31 turned in from the 18-player list was Bob Davidson who finished fourth with a 107.

L. C. Potts took second place at 103, with Ed Meyerson third at 105, Davidson fourth, and Fenny Potts fifth at 108. Next best scores were 111's turned in by Richard LaDue and Rory McCloud who tied for sixth.

George Marshall fired a 42, but had to drop out of the tournament to take the children home.

Entries will be accepted through Oct. 30 for open medal play tournament, and Putt Putt is also taking entries for other league play. Manager Ken Singletary reports play will start soon for church and trailer leagues.

Athletics' Value Stressed in Talk

The "carry-over" value from athletics to everyday life was stressed in a talk by Palm Springs insurance man Don Bottorff Monday night at the weekly Boosters Club meeting.

Bottorff, who was a member of the 1941 Rose Bowl team from Nebraska and a player on that squad from 1940-42, pointed out that the "true person comes out when he's under fire" as is the case in competitive athletic events.

He went on to recite cases of former athletes who were teammates of his presently with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and in other top flight positions.

At the meeting, the Boosters also started planning for their annual Football Banquet, tentatively scheduled for Dec. 5. A committee composed of Gene Fox, John Sparger and Marty Kenyon was appointed to work on the project by Booster Club President Walter Colglazier.

Rondoni Wins At Men's Golf

Dick Rondoni fired a 78 in the preview season feature of the Men's Golf Club at Palm Springs Municipal Course this week to capture the low gross prize.

Opening season feature of the club will be held on Nov. 12 with a Jack and Jill tournament with the Ladies' Golf Club. A turkey shoot will be held with the two clubs combining on teams.

Other scores in the preview effort saw John Marinko take low net honors with a 66 with a two-way tie for second prize between Ivan Sharp and Sam Kert, who fired 70's.

Big Five Paced By UCLA Bruins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The UCLA Bruins, with an over-all record of 3-2 and a Big Five mark of 0-0, lead the conference statistical race in three departments, according to figures released today and including Saturday's contests.

The Bruins top the conference in total defense, allowing 230 yards per game; in rushing offense, making 228 yards; and in rushing defense, allowing only 132.

Southern California leads in total offense with 309 yards a game; and in passing offense at 158 per tilt.

Stanford is the other leader, allowing only 69 yards per game in the air.

TWO TEAMS GO EAST; ONLY ONE BIG 5 GAME

SEATTLE (UPI)—The University of Washington today pointed toward its non-conference game with the Oregon Ducks at Portland Saturday.

Coach Jim Owens put his Huskies through just about every phase of the game. The Washington squad drilled on pass offense, kicking and blocking Tuesday.

Cougars Make Changes
PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI)—Washington State University went to the practice field today with two changes in the line.

Oregon Works Defense
EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon coach Len Casanova today planned to spend the remainder of the week drilling his Ducks on defense.

The Oregonians take on the Washington Huskies Saturday in Portland, and coaches figures the game's outcome will be decided by the performance of their line-men. Oregon right halfback Mike Gaehter and fullback Jim Josephson will probably see action after missing last Saturday's game against San Jose State.

Beavers in Breather
CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—The Oregon State Beavers have two weeks to sharpen their pass defense before meeting Washington State here Nov. 4.

The Beavers are idle this weekend. Coach Tom Prothro put his squad through a simulated attack on the Cougars' formations Tuesday.

Stanford Works Long
STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—The Stanford Indians today worked on defending the single-wing attack expected from UCLA here Saturday.

Coach Jack Curtice put his Indians through a marathon three-hour practice session Tuesday. Tackle Al Hildebrandt, injured in last weekend's contest with Washington, was the only player to miss the drill.

Bears Head East
BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—The University of California worked hard on defense and offense today before flying East at the end of the week to meet Penn State Saturday.

Coach Marv Levy, disappointed with the Bears' performance in

Susalla, Walls, Mantle in 2nd

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Two Palm Springs residents, Lee Walls and Eddie Susalla, teamed with baseball's famed Mickey Mantle, are tied for second place in the pro-amateur team division of the $15,000 Sahara golf tournament which got underway here Tuesday. They had a best-ball score of 55.

Leading the pro-am division after the first round of the 54-hole play were teams headed by former baseball star Jerry Preddy, now a golf pro; Chuck Rotar of Las Vegas; and Dick Stranahan of San Leandro. They had best ball scores of 54.

Young Bob Harrison, a transplanted Southerner now playing out of Pacific Palisades, leads the tournament with a one stroke advantage over Juan Rodriguez, of Puerto Rico, and Jerry Steel-smith of Glendale.

The biggest gallery of opening day tagged after Mantle's team. The star chipped in a 30-footer on the 600-yard, par 5 second hole to help his team to the second place spot.

The cactus garden that the late Albert Einstein and his wife, Elsie, are pictured above admiring at El Mirador back in 1933 is being renovated by Gilman Ray Ryan, owner of the desert spa, as the "Albert Einstein Memorial Garden." A bronze plaque on a sun dial will be placed in the center of the garden.

Brown Wants Federal Senior Citizens Aid

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said Tuesday federal government should take the lead in helping senior citizens, who comprise 8.5 per cent of California's population.

The governor, testifying before a U.S. Senate subcommittee on federal-state activities in the field of aging, said that despite state efforts to help persons over 60 the federal government "must go even farther than it has in giving leadership and financial support to state and local efforts."

Brown counted 1.38 million senior citizens in the state and noted that "one of every 12 Americans over 65 lives in California." His prepared statement made four suggestions for increased federal aid:

- 1962 enactment of Social Security health insurance for the aged.
- Improved Social Security benefits, including cost of living increases.
- Extension of federal programs for direct-loan financing and low-rent public housing with priority for the aged.
- Increased federal participation in health and welfare programs.

Brown's request for federal leadership followed the line of his statement Monday in the area of civil defense. While lauding the civil defense aspects of a new rapid transit plan devised by the Los Angeles Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA), he looked to the federal government for overall supervision.

"OPERATION CHALLENGE," Drug King for the past eight weeks has been running a promotion in which "Bonus Bucks" in the form of play money have been given out with purchases of Rexall products. This money can be used to bid on hundreds of dollars' worth of merchandise being offered by Drug King at an auction to be held this Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Drug King store, 440 S. Palm Canyon Drive. During this final week, "Bonus Bucks" are being given on all purchases made. Items to be auctioned have been on display in the store throughout the promotion. Pictured is Mrs. E. Chandler of Los Angeles looking over the items to be auctioned. In appreciation of Palm Springs response to the "Bonus Bucks" operation challenge promotion, Drug King is giving a $100 merchandise donation to Boy Scout Troop No. 83.

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

It seems odd that one of the important fears the new patient brings to psychotherapy is that the therapist will take away his symptoms too quickly. It isn't difficult to understand once we see the purpose of the symptom in the general economy of the personality.

A symptom to a psychotherapist probably has a broader meaning than it might to the layman. Not only does it include headaches, nail biting, allergies, and poor school work, but it is also used to understand the person who commits anti-social acts or who 'acts out' his inner problems in other ways. All of these are 'symptomatic' of underlying emotional problems lying below the level of the person's awareness.

Symptoms serve a number of purposes. In general they serve to bind tension and focus it so that we have something tangible to treat. Even though a headache may be caused by emotional stress it is still possible to treat it with an aspirin. An asthma attack can be set off by an anxious situation but it can nevertheless often be controlled by drugs. There are probably few feelings in the world so uncomfortable as a generalized free-floating anxiety—a constant jitteriness, that nameless dread that immobilizes us into feelings of helplessness and panic. It seems much better to have the familiar symptom, something we can name and, at least sometimes, control.

Prop Up Self Respect
Symptoms can also serve to prop up a person's self-respect by helping him to find reasons for failures which he can feel are truly beyond his control... "It's not my inadequacy, it's my headaches." To take away a symptom from a person who has used it as a reason for inadequacy before he has had time to build feelings of self-esteem would only accentuate the feelings of inferiority and often make him feel all the more worthless.

The woman with headaches who has failed her husband and children in so many ways becomes apprehensive about the idea of robust health; for then she would be called upon to produce and she just doesn't feel up to it. Before she simply took to bed where it was safe and relatively comfortable.

The business man who suffers from palpitations becomes worried about health in terms of how he's going to explain his continued low sales volume. All of this does not mean that people don't want to get rid of those devastating and paralyzing symptoms. They do, but not before they have something to take its place.

Frustrations are Harmful
Symptoms become the way many of us resolve problems when our important family relationships have left no other avenues for solution. When parents frustrate children and make them angry and then squelch the anger with threats of physical harm, what else can a boy do but wet his bed and feel that since it happens when he's asleep he couldn't possibly be responsible. Instead of focusing on the angry feelings the focus has been turned elsewhere... he no longer needs to face the fact that he is angry but rather—he has a symptom to think about.

The reason that symptoms survive is that people are reluctant to give up what has now become so familiar. The nameless dread, 'diffuse anxiety' holds greater terror than the symptom whose pain we know and can hopefully control medically.

The function of the psychotherapist is to give the patient a handle with which to approach these problems. To identify the underlying conflicts and to aid the patient in their resolution. To help build his self-esteem so as to make the symptom no longer necessary.

Weaknesses In Red Party Now Disclosed
Events of the 22nd Communist congress in Moscow have disclosed important, although not necessarily fatal, weaknesses in the house Nikita Khrushchev is attempting to build.

The weaknesses are both economic and political.

On the political side was his attack on Albania for that little country's continued adherence to the "Stalinist cult" first denounced by Khrushchev at the party's 20th congress in 1956.

The depth of the split was emphasized by the fact that no Albanian representative is attending the current congress.

Khrushchev's attack in effect was an invitation for the removal of Gen. Enver Hoxha as Albania's strongman.

Everybody Except Chou
Accompanying it also have been rumors that Albania already has been read out of the Warsaw Pact nations, the Russian and satellite counterpart of NATO.

With one important exception, other leaders followed Khrushchev to the speaker's stand to continue the attacks on Albania. That important exception was Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai.

For two days, Chou sat on his hands while other delegates vigorously applauded not only Khrushchev's attacks on Albania but also his renewed attacks on the anti-party group which Khrushchev purged in 1957.

There were important ties. The anti-party group led by V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi Malenkov and others opposed Khrushchev on his plans for decentralization of industry and peaceful coexistence with the West.

Khrushchev's co-existence theme also is the basis for opposition now from Red China and Albania.

Gets Honorary Degree

RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — William V. S. Tubman, president of Liberia, was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by Fairleigh Dickinson University on Monday for his role "as architect of a sensible political cooperation among African states."

The Desert Sun

Palm Springs, California, Wednesday, October 25, 1961

THE AIRLIFT to the Tramway site was halted momentarily, while Earl Coffman bought a ticket to the Pathfinders Hat Parade Luncheon that will be held at Chi Chi Starlite Room on Saturday, Nov. 4. The two eager saleswomen are Mrs. Joseph Froggatt Jr. and Mrs. S. P. Manasse, who are selling tickets anywhere and everywhere. Proceeds from the Hat Parade Luncheon will go to the Pathfinders' project of building a swimming pool for the Palm Springs Boys Club... and yes, there is a men's division in the Hat Parade.

To Select P. S. Debs Saturday

When tryouts for the Palm Springs Debs of the 1961-62 season are held on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 10 a.m., in the Palm Springs High School auditorium, the selection committee will be comprised of photographer Bill Anderson; Joan (Mrs. Frank W.) Bering, who has studied art abroad and is a member of the Palm Springs Palette Club; Dorothy (Mrs. Chester W.) Cohagen, who for many years headed the Dorothy Preble Modeling School and Agency in Los Angeles; Barbara (Mrs. William) Foster, public relations director of the Harry Conover Agency in Palm Springs; Mitchel Hamillburg, artists' representative (talent agent) with offices in Hollywood, New York, London, Paris and Rome; and Wendy Rue, well-known fashion designer who will shortly open a new ladies' apparel shop in Palm Springs.

All junior and senior girls from Palm Springs High School and Palm Valley School are eligible to try out for the Palm Springs Debs. For their appearance before the selection committee, those wishing to participate should wear swim suits (no bikinis, please) and high-heeled shoes. There is no advance registration necessary, but the girls should be at the Palm Springs High School auditorium this Saturday promptly at 10 a.m.

The Palm Springs Debs work in conjunction with the publicity department of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce. Their activities include photographic modeling, which results in their pictures appearing in leading magazines and newspapers all over the country; occasionally modeling in fashion shows, serving as official greeters for celebrities visiting the Village, participating in dedication of new buildings, appearing in parades, and a myriad of other activities related to important events in Palm Springs, such as the annual Rodeo and Desert Circus.

Club Hears Musical Cameos

Approximately 200 members greeted friends returning to the desert from all over the country, when Palm Desert Woman's Club held its first luncheon meeting at Shadow Mountain Club.

There were favorable comments on all sides about the club's new decor of beige, chartreuse and tan, while the fire engine red napkins made conversation pieces.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Roy McCall, president, welcomed members and guests and then named the following directors: Mrs. Randall Henderson, program; Mrs. Doane Elliott, historian, and Mrs. Baldwin Baker, membership.

Committees appointed were: budget — Mrs. Stewart Trumble; civics — Mrs. James O'Reilly; and Mrs. C. M. Kincaide; decorations — Mrs. Robert Coates, chairman, assisted by Mmes. Walter Markley, John Moon and Charles Pelgram. The library board is headed by Mrs. Tom Brown assisted by Mrs. Edward C. Ruge; parliamentary — Mrs. H. C. Carpenter; publicity — Mrs. George F. Anderson; reservations — Mrs. Fred Siemen, assisted by Mmes. Edwin Inles and L. C. Lewis; social — Mrs. John Vale. Welfare will be under the direction of Mrs. Carl Henderson, assisted by Mmes. John S. Bathrick and L. W. Thompson. Mrs. Hal Kapp will chairmen the year book, assisted by Mmes. Ted Smith and Harold Combs.

Mrs. P. W. Seals assisted by Mmes. Ralph Hale, Stephen Chase, John Gillespie and Duane Tinklepaugh were the hostesses for the first meeting.

Mrs. Baldwin Baker, membership chairman, named and greeted the new members and their sponsors.

NEW TASTES
NEW YORK (UPI) — Potatoe salad mix and crinkle-cut pan fry potatoes are among the easy-fix new products. The salad mix includes ready mixed spices and seasonings, and can be used both for cold salad and hot. The potatoes are cooked in fat and water, then they are fried in the same pan with the cover removed. (Betty Crocker).

Mrs. Henderson, program chairman, introduced the charming Midge Stone, who, with her accompanist Clyde Zulch, presented a series of musical cameos. She portrayed three fascinating women to prove her musical point. Eliza, from "My Fair Lady," (Mr. Zulch taking the part of Prof. Higgins at appropriate times), learning to say "A" in "The Rain in Spain Stays Mainly On the Plain," to "I Could Have Danced All Night," Nellie, from "South Pacific," that "cockeyed Optimist," who, instead of "Washing That Man Right Out of her Hair," fell in love instead, and ended up in Balai-Hai. And, finally, Anna, from "The King and I" (a role she has portrayed on the stage) singing "Hello Young Men," "Getting To Know You," and "Shall We Dance." For an encore she sang the lovely "Almost Like Being In Love."

Miss Stone is well known on radio, having appeared with Bing Crosby and guested on the Kellogg Hour. She has made movies at Paramount and 20th Century Fox and was featured in "Thirteen Hours by Air" with Fred McMurray, and "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim" with Betty Grable, and is now active in television.

Seven celebrants helped Kristina Buckheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Buckheim, move a family of dolls into her new playhouse, when Kristina celebrated her 5th birthday with a party in her Vista Oro home.

Cake and ice cream, served following a barbecue luncheon, was enjoyed by Kristina's neighbors and classmates from Cahulla kindergarten and Trixie Dancing Studio.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Buckheim Sr. of Beverly Hills enjoyed the festivities with young guests: Walter Clarke Jr., Geri Finerman, Joe Riordan, Judy Rounkles, Larry Pitts, Debbie Hall and Charlene Potter.

Around Town

by Hildy Crawford

Elaine and Hank Untermyer, just back from Europe, where he was with the Vini Rurac tennis tour, plus business, stopped off for a fast 48 hours in Palm Springs on their way back to San Francisco. They were at L'Horizon and had dinner at the Tennis Club and took a look at Milt Hicks' new Holiday Inn. They said they hoped to get back soon for a long stay, and host another of their fun-around-a-campfire parties out at the Relay Station.

Carol Harding, member of last June's graduating class from Palm Springs High School, and winner of the Desert Press Club's journalism scholarship, was here this weekend visiting with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Verhoef at Safari Trailer Park. Carol, who is studying journalism at Santa Ana College, is carrying 16 units and working in an investment house nine hours a week.

Friends of Enor and Dad French have heard that their plans for coming to Palm Springs for their usual winter stay are most indefinite. Dad has been having serious eye trouble, and although he is better now, they are staying on in their San Francisco home.

Frankie (Mrs. Leo) Spitz is back from Europe and busy catching up on United Nations doings in New York. She's been attending the General Assembly and voting on a new Secretary - General to replace Dag Hammarskjold, whose loss is almost irreplaceable, she feels. Frankie expects to be home about the end of October.

Invitations to the Toddlers Ball at Thunderbird Country Club on Nov. 4, say, "Please Come to My Party" . . . and who could resist such a plea coming from the adorable child pictured on the cover. The little fellow Mark Duane is a typical toddler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaudiello.

Monte Warshauer who had one cataract operation, is scheduled to have one on his other eye, sometime this week, but was looking fine at the Racquet Club's opening dinner dance.

Harold and Florence Murphy have purchased the Earl Cordrey house at 677 Crescent Drive and expect to spend most of the winter here . . . instead of traipsing off around the world as they do so frequently.

Count and Countess Hubert de Montmorot of Paris flew to California for a week's visit with Lud and Kay Flower in their Rancho Mirage and Bel Air homes. The four cocktail at Eldorado Country Club with Lud's uncle and aunt the Roland Maroneys of Brentwood and Eldorado, before going on to the Racquet Club opening. The Maroneys have just purchased a home on the Cary Ranch and will be winter residents.

L. A. socialite Jan Ogden, frequent Palm Springs visitor, made Cholly Knickerbocker's column in New York this week, when he printed the item that Jan did a bit part with Troy Donahue in "Lovers Must Learn," when she was in Italy this summer. Jan is en route home and expects to be down here for the Hat Parade Luncheon.

Lucille Puckett, who is in Monte Sano Hospital in Los Angeles, recuperating from major surgery, is just lying there dreaming of Palm Springs sunshine and hoping to be back in her Camino Encanto home soon.

Shoppers to Receive Aid In Riverside

Riverside County housewives, icked by misleading labeling of meats and confused by deceptive packaging of some grocery items, will get expert help on shopping problems at the Consumer Information Conference to be held Tuesday, Nov. 7, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Mission Inn, Riverside.

Led by Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson, Consumer Counsel to Governor Edmund G. Brown, a panel of local, state and federal authorities will tell how to get best values in meat, poultry and household products and will discuss such problems as securing full weights in packaged items.

The meeting, open to the public, is being conducted under the aegis of Governor Brown's Consumer Counsel. Local chairman is Mrs. Harry Dougherty, 5008 Myrtle Avenue, Riverside.

"We're urging every homemaker within traveling distance to come and hear facts about everything we buy—from T-bone steaks to auto tires," Mrs. Dougherty said. "What we learn at this conference can save us hundreds of dollars in our food and household budgets."

A special luncheon program has been arranged for which advance reservations are required. In charge of reservations are Mrs. Ben Milliken, 4295 Brentwood Place, and Mrs. Robert Dependahl, 5109 Stonewood Drive, both of Riverside. Cost of the lunch is $2.50.

AFS Students at Picnic Represent Many Countries

Foreign exchange students from 11 different countries attended the American Field Service-sponsored picnic Saturday in Andreas Canyon, according to Mrs. Win Miner, president of the Palm Springs chapter.

Five Navajo dancers from the Sherman Institute in Riverside entertained the group following the picnic lunch and the students from abroad were so much impressed, that many of them got up and joined the Indian dancers.

The two Palm Springs students attending the annual event were Antonia Cavada from Italy and Julio Escarguel from Argentina.

Coming from Southern California communities were Monica Statler of Switzerland and Beverly Hills; Chantel Mourier and Annie DeVall from France and Tohru Nishida from Kyoto, Japan came from their foster homes in Riverside; from India were George Nielson from Denmark and Tris Dykman of Holland; Sarfraz Hussain of Pakistan and Irene Autenreid of Switzerland drove from Banning; from their foster homes in Lake Arrowhead were Anna Gonzales from Guatemala and Mauro Nonez of Italy and from Fontana were Tino Gonzales of Spain and Jennie Beckby of West Berlin.

Two "Americans Abroad" returnees also participated in the picnic. They were Steve Nichols of Palm Springs and Chuck Plotkin of Beverly Hills.

Members of the Palm Springs Chapter and foster parents of the foreign exchange high school students also attended. Among them were Palm Springs High School principal Dr. Austin Sellery and Mrs. Sellery with their children; Mrs. Earl Coffman, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Karr with Karen and Bill Karr; Mrs. Harpo Marx with Alex and Jim Marx; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Young, William Bruckner, Mrs. Albert Woods, Dr. and Mrs. Seamus Nanan and son Terry, Mrs. Vaughn Alchian, Mr. and Mrs. Culver Nichols and Mrs. and Mrs. Stan Ross.

Janice Woods, president of the student chapter of AFS was also there with Diane Allen, Pat Kehl, Stephanie Monez, Vickie Lynch and Jill Gerhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Smith and their daughter Geraldine accompanied the Navajo dancers. Also from Riverside were Mrs. Jack Bamberger, Nancy Bamberger and Nancy Lawson.

From Indio were Mrs. Don McClelland, Mrs. John Tyler, Louise Tyler, Sharon Ladic, Mrs. James Gorman and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Asker.

Coming from Banning were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Covington. From Lake Arrowhead were Mr. and Mrs. Spence and Mr. and Mrs. Vandenberg with Judy Scott.

Fontana AFS members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vedo and son Bob, Fred Knaus and Mrs. Dewey Orndorf and daughter Melanie.

Hollywood Is Setting for Board Meeting

On Oct. 28, at the Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel in Los Angeles, the members of the executive board of District Four B'nai B'rith Women will assemble for their semi-annual deliberations.

District Four comprises the 9 Western States and British Columbia, and the executive board is the policy making body for the more than fifteen thousand women who constitute the membership of the district.

Mrs. George Sheff, president, announced that among the many important matters to be discussed in the two day conclave, will be the implementation of the newest of the community services in which B'nai B'rith Women engage, the formation of the Home Peace Front, an outgrowth of President Kennedy's Peace Corps program.

P.E.O. Plans Perris Meeting

The P.E.O. San Geronimo Reciprocity Bureau will hold a luncheon meeting at noon in Pilgrim Hall of the Congregational Church in Perris, 177 East Fourth St., on Oct. 28.

Proceeding the meeting will be a visiting hour at 11 a.m.

Unaffiliated P.E.O.s desiring to attend may make reservations with Mrs. G. S. McMillan, Box 217, Indio, no later than tomorrow.

Fun After Forty Club to Meet

Fun After Forty Club, Palm Springs Senior Citizens, will enjoy a first potluck dinner, this season, Sunday evening, Oct. 29 at 6:30 p.m. in the Pavilion at the Polo Grounds. Members and friends are all invited to come, bringing table service and a casserole dish, salad or dessert.

This Club is sponsored by the City Recreation Department, and is open to the public. All may come and enjoy this opportunity to get acquainted. Group trips to surrounding places are being planned.

Business Women's Club Fetes 15th Year

Each member of the Palm Springs Business Women's Club was feted at her particular horoscope table, decorated with the zodiacal sign for her birthday month, when the club observed the 15th anniversary of its founding with a party held in Virgie and Matt Dragicevich's Desert Produce showroom.

Organized in 1946, the club was Palm Springs' first business women's organization and during the years has been active both civically and philanthropically.

One of its first triumphs was winning a trophy for its "Desert Flowers" entry in an early Desert Circus parade.

It was the Palm Springs Business Women's Club that honored Desert Sun's editor-emeritus and columnist Phai (R. F.) Graettinger by providing a bench with a golden plaque with his name on it, at the time he was crusading for benches along Palm Canyon Drive. The clubwomen also supported the crusading editor in such community projects as clean-up and beautification campaigns, widening of the old bottleneck Tah-quitz bridge and palm trees along Palm Canyon Drive.

Perhaps one of their greatest efforts was the never-to-be-forgotten "Gaslight Gaieties," with its rollicking all-women cast, that entertained the Village for 12 seasons. An olio and old-fashioned melodrama of the Gay 90s period, it raised money for Palm Springs Community Chest, Cancer and Heart funds, Red Cross, Welfare & Friendly Aid, Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation. It also assisted the Jaycees with their annual Fireworks fund, and helped buy furnishings for the Chamber of Commerce conference room, where the club meets frequently. Isomata and Girl Scouts were other recipients from club funds, and a typewriter award was made to a Junior High School student with good scholastic record.

Currently, the club is sponsoring an Italian girl, Anna Pagano, under the Foster Parents Plan, and at the club's meeting on Nov. 19 at Town & Country restaurant, it will hear a first-hand report on her from member Alice Koenig, who visited the girl in Naples this summer. President Munya Smoot will conduct the meeting.

It was a gay party that celebrated the Business Women's Club's 15th birthday, and was co-hosted by Virgie Dragicevich and Virginia Blackstone, assisted by Louise Purnell. Birthday gifts and a fabulous basket of fresh fruit as a door prize added to the festivities.

Chiffon continues to reign as the big favorite in the holiday and cruise collections. Crepe is the runner up.

FREE... a surprise gift for every lady and man attending the Auction!

SHOWING THE OPERATION of the Midas IV Project radio communications network, diagram delineates thin line in orbit around earth which is path of a band of tiny metallic fibers released by rocket fired from Point Arguello, Calif. Radio signals from the West Ford transmitters will be bounced off this band and reflected back to earth, providing almost jam-proof global radio network for U. S. Air Force Systems Command.

Germans Prepare, But Are Not Set for War

UPI Foreign News Analyst
MUNICH, West Germany—The West German government is preparing along with its NATO partners for possible war with Russia. But the West German people neither want war nor at the moment are prepared for it mentally.

These are among the conclusions that must be drawn at the end of three intensive weeks in Germany, during which almost the entire perimeter of West Germany was covered, from Bonn through Hamburg, by train through East Germany to Berlin, thence through Hanover, along the Bavarian border with East Germany and Czechoslovakia, and finally to Munich.

Fall is festival time in Munich. Where Hitler Started
This is the city in which Hitler made his first unsuccessful putsch and went to jail.

It is the city where the then prime minister of Britain, Neville Chamberlain, believed that in his meetings with Hitler he successfully had preserved "peace in our time."

But aside from these unhappy memories, Munich is a center of culture and the city to which thousands of Germans flock at the time of celebration for the harvest to drink beer, and generally let themselves go.

Hotels are jammed and the thoughts and strains of war are far away.

In the Bavarian Alps the cows are being brought down from the summer pastures, their racks garlanded with green boughs and flowers, to be welcomed by the peasants for whom this is festival time, too.

Soviet Bloc Aid Boosted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet bloc aid to underdeveloped countries through credits and grants has more than doubled in the past two years, according to the State Department.

A report said these credits and grants have been increasing by $1 billion to $1.5 billion annually.

Major recipients have been the United Arab Republic, Afghanistan, Iraq, India, Indonesia, Cuba and Guinea.

Since 1954, $1.3 billion has been for military aid.

Russian 'Terror Bomb' Has Wide Possibilities

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Exploded in space, a 50-megaton bomb such as Russia may have just tested could serve as an "electronic smokescreen" for a sneak missile attack.

According to scientists, it also would:—Deliver a fatal dose of neutron radiation to any astronaut within 300 miles.

—Damage the eyes, by inflicting retinal burns, of anyone looking directly at it from distances of 700 miles or less.

—Completely black out short wave radio communications, and jam early missile warning radar. Radio communications would be knocked out for at least a day at distances up to 2,500 miles, and would be disrupted for several days after the period of total blackout.

—Act as an artificial solar flare to pump up and make more dangerous to spacecraft the Van Allen zones of radiation around the earth.

—Create a burst of light like an exploding star momentarily as bright as 10,000 suns. Vaporized materials of the bomb would expand into an incandescent fireball perhaps 40 miles across which would glow for several seconds after the fantastic initial flash.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has said Russia will conclude its September-October test series with the explosion late this month of a bomb equal in power to 50 million tons (megatons) of TNT.

This would be the biggest explosion ever produced by man. It would not equal in energy many of nature's performances such as giant hurricanes, giant volcanic eruptions, or giant earthquakes.

But it would unleash more than three times as much violence as the most powerful nuclear weapon known to have been tested to date. And it would set loose more than 2,500 times the energy released by the atomic bomb that destroyed Hiroshima in World War II.

Depending on winds, it could contaminate a region of 20,000 square miles with killing amounts of radioactivity. As an air burst it could inflict skin burns and start fires as far away as 50 miles.

In space the effects would be of a different kind. The calculations concerning the 50-megaton space shot's effect on radio and radar were made by Dr. Alvin G. McNish of the National Bureau of Standards. McNish is an authority on the effects of high altitude nuclear explosions.

Electrons and other charged particles emitted by the explosion would become trapped in the lines of force of the earth's magnetic field. Like particles sped into space by solar flares, they would create disturbances in the field, and "enhance the Van Allen belt."

In addition to messing up radio and radar, they would trigger northern light displays. These displays would occur in the zone of the explosion in the Northern Hemisphere and at the "conjugate points" on the magnetic lines of force in the Southern Hemisphere.

Such bombs fired in space at the right places could, by jamming radar warning systems, provide a "smokescreen" for nuclear attacks, McNish said.

Assuming astronauts had no more shielding than that provided say, by a Mercury space cabin, penetrating rays from a nuclear burst would be "a murderous proposition," Lapp said. These rays would go through a Mercury spacecraft "like butter," he said.

In the atmosphere neutrons are quickly absorbed and other radiations are "attenuated." In space they would flash at or near the speed of light for hundreds of miles without losing their deadliness.

Lapp figured that the "lethal range" of neutrons alone from a 50-megaton explosion would be 330 miles.

A 50-megaton bomb would weigh about 12 1/2 tons. Are the Russians capable of rocketing such a weight to altitudes of 100 miles above places of their choosing? Easily, Lapp believes.

Scientists who participated in a recent American Rocket Society meeting in New York predicted the Russians soon will be able to carry as much as 50 tons into space. With such rocket power, they could put a 50-megaton bomb into a satellite orbit around the earth.

They already have proved, in the Gagarin and Titov flights, that they know how to make a satellite come down where and when they wish.

AT Least, They Spelled Our Name Right

Many years ago there was a school of thought among publishers and editors that the only way to build circulation and attract attention to the newspaper, was to be sensational. Any event, even if it meant a great advance in civilization, a new break-through in science, a great medical discovery, was relegated to the inside pages and the front page was reserved for the sensations — the stories which would make people gasp. That was Yellow Journalism.

It bred a breed of writers who went out of their way to find things wrong. They, too, earned a name: muckrakers. They worked on the theory that people wanted to be jolted, that ordinary items on the "good" side were tame. People didn't want to read that. They wanted something exciting, which is a human trait, always has been and always will be. Many times, if nothing could be found that was wrong or, in their opinion, needed correction, they invented something.

They even went back into history, debunked some of the great men of the past, sought out their weaknesses, anything for sensation.

Palm Springs had a taste of this in a TV program by Bill Stout who has been "correcting" things for KTLA for some time. The so-called slum situation on Section 14 is being eliminated. Substandard housing is going. The people who lived there will be taken care of. The move will be beneficial for the people who have to move. They will have better housing. It is beneficial to the Indians who own the property. It is fine for the city as it will mean orderly development. True, as red tape goes, as regulations must be met, and other incidents pop up, there is bound to be delay, some inconvenience, some hardships.

Any change for the better is often beset with inconvenience, arguments, debates. Few persons think exactly alike. It takes time to eliminate all of the "bugs." But the final result is of benefit to all.

But in the meantime, there was debate, argument and inconvenience, red tape and regulations to be met in Section 14. But it was no cause for sensationalism or accusations of injustice or pictures of persecution.

Councilman George Beebe was correct in his blast at TV for the 30-minute "documentary" which put Palm Springs in a bad light before thousands of viewers.

In this case TV, which is fairly new as time goes, has just reached the Yellow Journalism stage some newspapers experienced more than a half century ago. The consolation is that the newspapers which descended to sensationalism for sensationalism's sake, soon discovered the mistake. Those of the forthright estate who busied themselves with presenting the true picture, are now the Big Papers of the world. Television will learn this as it continues to grow.

In the meantime, if it's any consolation to Mr. Beebe, at least they spelled P-a-l-m S-p-r-i-n-g-s correctly.

Muscovites Claim Another Victory

The Reds and the Pinks and all shades in between, now have another strong argument to bolster their claims that communism, along with the far left, is vastly superior to the decadent, capitalistic, imperialistic way of life.

Communism breeds a sturdier people, they now can say without worrying about finding proof of their boast.

The stamina of the sturdy Marxists and their ability to "take it" has been demonstrated twice within the past few days.

Even from England

Los Angeles, one of the fastest growing cities in the world, is the desired goal of countless people everywhere if travel surveys can be believed. It is also the target of gibes around the world because of its traffic problems, its sprawling size, its crowded streets which even the freeways haven't been able to solve as yet.

In England, where they are having a growing

Nikita Khrushchev delivered a speech in Moscow that lasted six and one half hours. Fidel Castro talked in Havana last weekend for almost three hours. The commie audiences stuck it out to the end in both cases.

Where in America would you find such large crowds with the strength, physically and mentally, to sit through almost seven hours of yak-yak in the one case and almost three hours in the other?

And where in America would you find the crowds that wanted to?

traffic problem, they cite Los Angeles as a horrible example.

News dispatches bring the story of Ernest Maples, English transport minister who, in addressing a meeting of city officials, warned the local authorities to tackle their own traffic problems or large cities will spread into huge congested areas like Los Angeles which he described as "22 suburbs in search of a city."

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The New Twenty-Year War Has Started

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In his September speech before the UN, President Kennedy challenged Premier Khrushchev to wage peace for the social betterment of mankind — and now Khrushchev has accepted with a 20-year plan as given before the 22nd Soviet Party Congress in Moscow.

This leaves the two contestants, the USA and the USSR, face to face on the dueling ground, each vowing to compete by peaceful means alone, but each with one hand on the holster, ready to shoot without notice.

Theoretically, the masses of mankind will stand aside and watch the struggle. They will supposedly choose to follow American leadership if we prove to have the better plan and practice, or Russian leadership if the Reds can offer something better. Realistically, however, the situation is not so pat.

Despite Mr. Kennedy's rephrase of the Lincoln sentence which was turned into a Democratic election slogan, "The world cannot remain half-slave, half-free," the world can and possibly will. Lincoln was talking about one country which then had a slave system and a free labor system. It also had a central government and a history of union. There is no such thing as One World, and the idea is abhorrent to our Western concept of freedom and diversity.

Not Ideal But Needed

It is much to our American interests, for the time being, that the world remain part free, part slave, part neutral. This is not ideal, but unavoidable. We will be doing all right for the next 20 years if we defend our own people, possessions, institutions and interests. Concluding some fighting allies. It is most likely that the Peace Corp, Food for Peace, Arms Control and Disarmament, Foreign Aid and Summit Meetings can do much for the social uplift of the neutrals or for the emancipation of the half-billion peoples in the Sino-Soviet clutch. These things are bigger than we are.

To be frank, looking at Mr. Kennedy's time in office or looking as far as the 1960's, we will be striving not to achieve One World, but to maintain the World Divided. That is, we must hold West Berlin, West Germany, South Vietnam, South Korea, Nationalist China, all of Latin America except Red Cuba and whatever else that can be called half-free, half-slave.

With the possible exception of the Western Hemisphere, there is almost no chance of recapturing territory from World Communism without a fight. If Mr. Kennedy were wholly honest with us, he would say that our policy is to keep free people free, and little more.

It is only the Communists who truly visualize One World. The Reds are pushing against physical borders everywhere. In Germany, Korea, Southeast Asia and across the water that separates Cuba from Continental North and South America, the Communists are in a mood for conquest. It is not very likely that Khrushchev keeps nearly 200 divisions under arms and plans 50- and 100-megaton bombs merely to defend the Red Revolution against a Western Alliance which is defensive to the point of being pacifistic.

The Reds Never Stop

We know from changeless experience with Communism that it never stops its total aggression. We also know that Communism tends to use whatever amount of force is necessary. The MIGs came to North Korea, the tanks to Hungary. Now Khrushchev has matched us and perhaps surpassed us in improving nuclear artillery. In the drive to achieve One World, Khrushchev and his successors in Russia, and his Communist cohorts in Red China, have the double advantage of dynamism and ruthlessness.

It is well to admit all this. We have had too much empty rhetoric by far. The situation is terrible. It would be utterly hopeless if it were not for the still, small voices of dissatisfaction heard in the land. There are many evidences that the intellectual leadership of the university campus is turning strongly nationalist. The angry reaction in the Armed Services is detectable by any reporter who goes the rounds. Our best military officers are seething at the Cuban fiasco, at orders against teaching anti-Communism, at the voluntary test ban which handicapped nuclear arms development. Although Mr. Kennedy has talked much and done little, the President is developing a certain fatalism about the dangers of the age we live in. Late in the year he appears to have accepted the need of fighting our next war with our best weapons.

Altogether, while the USA is under great disadvantages, mainly psychological in nature, the stirrings of revival are there. Mostly we need to be told the truth. Americans no longer believe it is possible, or very desirable, to save the world. But to save themselves—yes!

BUT, GETTING BACK to that misguided man. He's not in any of the catalogs. He's a lone wolf who expects the world to beat a path to his door because, he says, he'll save plenty of money.

"This drum of mine, from snare to bass, will outlast the kids' shoes. It will still be good when the boy passes down his cords to his younger brother. Think of the savings. The drum for a lifetime," he brags.

THAT COULD BE all right because the grandsons are 1600 miles to the east. But every ointment must have a fly in it, it seems.

The neighbors have a Little Monster just of the drum age. I can just see him with one of the unbreakable kind. Boom in the morning, rat-a-tat at noon and crash-bang at night.

I JUST KNOW he'll be the kind to get one of these new drums.

He received a big drum last year but it was one of the fragile sort. He had beaten the heck out of it all day when his uncle had a sad accident.

Heading for the refrigerator intent on getting in some breathing exercise, blowing foam, he accidentally put his foot through the drum. Peace, it is wonderful.

I HAVE AN idea, however. That kid runs true to form. He has an insatiable curiosity — always wants to know what makes it tick.

If he gets one of these unbreakable demoniac drums, I'm going to swipe an idea I once read about.

I'll innocently get the kid aside and ask him.

"Where does that noise come from? Is there something inside that makes all that noise?"

HAVING PLANTED the idea, I'll stay out of the way of his mother and dad for a while.

Because that kid is going to mull over what I said and it won't be long before he takes the drum apart to satisfy his curiosity. And he'll never get it together again.

If I can do that early, that drum will be hors d'oeuvre before the first Christmas tree light burns out.

"WAIT—MAYBE I'LL DO THE CARVING"

This man means well but He's really a bum, He says he's made an Unbreakable drum.

The big stores are putting out their Christmas catalogs. The toy sections are full of entrancing things. They have the kids gaga, even those too young to read. The pictures are exciting.

The bang-bang Westerns on TV are neglected as the youngsters lie, tummy down, on the floor to moon over the items shown.

(The old man has to wait until the kids get to bed before he can drool over the new toys, too.)

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our four children plan to drive to Britian Columbia to visit sister, her husband and their five children. We have three weeks' vacation coming, haven't seen these folks for four years, and think it would be lots of fun. We will stay with them, of course, since we don't know anyone else up there.

Now for our problem: Should we let them know we are coming, or should we just drive up to their back door and surprise them? My husband is sort of superstitious and says it is bad luck to reveal your plans in advance, and he wants to surprise them. Would this be proper?—B. C. BOUND

DEAR B. C. BOUND: This would be "highly" improper, and I suggest you write first. Your husband's sister might be superstitious about thirteen people in a home that ordinary houses seven.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tactfully tell a neighbor woman that you would like to entertain once in a while without her presence? Every time a car drives into my driveway, my neighbor "joins" us. She is a good neighbor in many ways, but we do not travel in the same circles. Many of my friends do not care for her. (Her language is a bit on the vulgar side.) I don't want to hurt her feelings, as we both own our own homes and I like to be on good terms with my neighbors.

Remember When

OCTOBER 25, 1951

The eighth annual Western Week got under way today, sponsored by Las Compadres Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Dancing in the American Legion building patio was a feature of the opening event.

Policeman John Herrera withdrew his resignation and asked for a six month leave of absence instead. It was granted.

Thor Heyerdahl, author of "Kon Tiki," was a guest of Sol Lesser in the Village.

OCTOBER 25, 1941

The third annual Salton Sea Regatta got under way today with some of the fastest craft in the nation competing. Last year ten world records were broken on the Salton Sea.

The Desert Sun reported it had joined a metropolitan paper in "scooping" competition by flying its weekly edition to the nightly camp of Vaqueros del Desierto during their ride.

Palm Springs Boy Scouts started a paper drive to aid in the national defense program.

OCTOBER 25, 1931

The puncture vine menace was the topic of A. E. Bottel, county horticultural commissioner, at the first luncheon of the season for the chamber of commerce at Deep Well Ranch.

The new building for Glenn McKinney's Desert Forge and Red C. Jones electric shop was dedicated.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stone spent a week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hull at Tahquitz Vista Estates.

but if I don't find a solution to this problem my husband is going to do it for me, and it won't be pleasant.—HELPLESS HOST-ESS

DEAR HELPLESS: No one who has a desire for privacy with the courage and a voice to proclaim that desire need be "helpless" against an intruder. Inform her in a kindly way that, when you have guests, you'd like to entertain a one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in real estate, and he is out almost every night of the week on "business." His normal homecoming time is around 9:00 P.M., but lately he has been pulling in at 4:30 and 5:00 A.M. When I ask him where he's been, he says at the corner tavern. They close the place at 2:00, but he claims that just means they lock the door and don't let any more customers in, but anyone who is already in can stay as long as he likes. Is this true? Or am I just plain—GULLIBLE

DEAR GULLIBLE: True or untrue, the real question is "What has the corner tavern got that your home hasn't got from 9:00 P.M. to 3:00 A.M.?" If you don't find out, you are more than "gullible," dear. You're sunk!

DEAR ABBY: I am 46, and my husband is slightly older. We have been married 20 years. My husband, at his age, is still collecting stamps! He spends hours filling stamp albums. How embarrassed I am when I tell my friends my husband is busy with his stamps! For a young boy, this hobby is fine, but not for a full-grown man. Please set my husband straight.

MRS. G.

DEAR MRS. G.: I am afraid it is YOU who should be set straight. Stamp collecting is a very worthy hobby for a person of any age. Why don't you take a leaf out of your husband's book? This is a hobby that really sticks!

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is fair for parents to put their children in boarding schools and leave them? I started in the first grade, and now I am a senior. If you've spent only four years all told with your parents could you love them? I can't. I have had all the material things that any child in this world could want but, in my opinion, the poorest child who lives at home in the slums has more than I will ever have. He has "love." Thank you, Miss Abby, for letting me get this off my chest. I could never say this in confession without being punished. May God's love for you be eternal, and may Mary bless you. Am I wrong?

UNLOVED

DEAR UNLOVED: Perhaps you are. Most parents do what they feel is best for their child.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BOB CONSIDINE:

This Job Has to be Most Hazardous of Them All

NEW YORK — Know a guy who just accepted the nation's toughest job, far more hazardous than that held by JFK, the astronauts, J. Edgar Hoover, the guy who separates U-235 from U-238 and the un-armed cop in Central Park. He has become the publicity man for the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Taxes are good for you. That's all he has to sell.

The more one reads of Bashir Ahmed, the Pakistani camel jockey, the less the man appeared to be of these tense times. He spoke more like a Biblical (or Koran) prophet, a gentle voice crying in the wilderness of today's chaos.

"The United Nations is a good thing," he said in his awed voice as his eye roamed over its wonders. "This is the place where people should come to solve their problems by talk rather than bullets." Wish it were.

Allah is Praised

Allah, no less, was behind the fantastic adventure in which he found himself embroiled, Bashir Ahmed exclaimed. He returns to his native land as one of the best known individuals in the world, this man who until a week ago was a face in a remote crowd in a distant land. Now he has met mighty Western leaders, has a new truck to replace his camel, is the owner of 15 acres in the valley of the Indus, sole proprietor of one square inch of Texas (on which oil surely will be struck, if Allah's interest continues), and a camera. The latter may be the most remarkable of the mountain of gifts he acquired during his trip. It was given to him by the reporters and cameramen assigned to cover his New York visit. We don't usually go in for that sort of thing.

"Would you like to live here?" he was asked, before boarding his home-bound plane at Idlewild.

"My culture is of the East and that is where I belong," the man said. "But now this seems like a home to me, too. Hearts beat here just the same as they do where I come from."

You can always spot an author attempting to buy one of his books. He's the customer who says, in the tiniest voice, "would you by any chance have a copy of a book named, '20,000 Ways To Peel A Grape'?" The book seller looks at him with that special contempt they seem to have monopoly on, and replies, "I think we had one a month or two ago, but we sold it. I could perhaps order it for you. Who is the author?"

"Zlich. J. Horace Zlich," the poor soul says, all mixed up with his pain, frustration and anger. He is offended that the book seller (A) didn't recognize him and (B) couldn't care less. He is outraged (C) that the store took only one copy or (D) that the publisher was too stupid to print more copies.

"Never mind, 'I'll try some other store," the author whimpers, and plunges on to the next soul-searing experience.

Frustrating Experience

The first book I wrote was "MacArthur the Magnificent." To my astonished delight I noticed one day that a copy of it was featured in the window of the famous Channel Book Store on Park Avenue. Tens of thousands of pedestrians passed that store every day, and there was my book for their patriotic eyes to rest upon. I strolled inside and asked the nice lady if by any chance she had a copy of "MacArthur The Magnificent."

"I would doubt it," she said, as if I had asked for the original of Paul's Epistle on Charity. I was retreating in rosy humiliation when suddenly she cried, "Just a moment. I'm sure I saw a copy around here not long ago. Of course, I did! It's in the window." She started for it.

"Please . . . not that one," I wept. "I don't want it that bad. Don't ruin your display . . . please . . . I beg of you."

"Nonsense!" she snapped. "Channel aims to please its customers." With that she extracted the book from the very center of the window, and I had to buy it. I never say it displayed again.

Other Editors

(Editor & Publisher)

What's it like to be a New York publisher? How does it compare with running a small paper in mid-America?

There are some basic differences between small and large-city newspapers but fundamentally their problems and responsibilities are the same, according to Robert White II, who has had experience on both.

Mr. White, co-editor and publisher of the Mexico, (Mo.) Ledger and former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, addressed the annual dinner of the Iowa Daily Press Association here Sept. 9.

He made these points:

—Newspapers are read by one human being at a time.

—The basic fundamentals of good editing are universal because human nature is.

—A newspaper can neither rise nor fall beyond or below the staff . . . or its leadership.

—Bigness in size increases the opportunity for specialization, and, also, quality.

—But bigness does not assure quality or mean smaller papers cannot have quality. For they can, and do. But small papers sometimes must overcome the weakness of their strength.

—The publisher of a large paper can have more assistance and tools with which to reach decisions. And he needs them.

—The large paper is more often read in higher places.

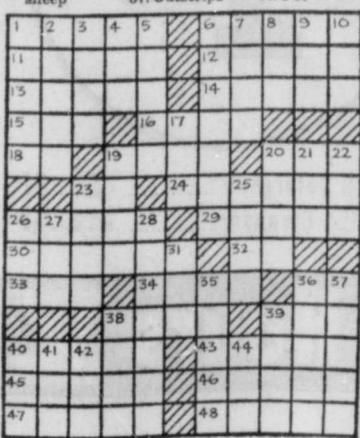

Mr. White, said he felt the Ledger and most small newspapers have far more influence with their Congressmen than do most large newspapers. "And," he continued, "I think it may be valid to claim that most small newspapers have more influence with their readers simply because they are closer to their readers."

But the Herald Tribune, he noted, does have some very real and meaningful claims to fame. "It is read daily in the White House. If an editor or a reporter should receive a direct or an indirect call from the President, it would not be the first time such a call was made."

"The Herald Tribune also is read in the Kremlin every day. As a matter of fact, Mr. Khrushchev has quoted Herald Tribune editorials a number of times," he commented.

ORDINANCE NO. 538
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AMENDING SECTIONS 9402, 9403, 9408, 9411, 9417, 9471 & 9473.1, AND ADDING SECTION 9409.2 TO DIVISION 9 OF THE "PALM SPRINGS ORDINANCE CODE," TO DECLARE THIS ORDINANCE TO BE AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA, AS FOLLOWS:
SECTION 1. The following sections, all in Division 9 of the "Palm Springs Ordinance Code" are hereby amended to read:
9402. OFF-STREET LOADING.
In C-1 and M-1 Districts for every building, structure, part thereof, hereafter erected and occupied for manufacturing, a retail warehouse, goods display, department store, market, mortuary, laundry, dry cleaning, hotel or similar uses involving receipt or distribution of articles of merchandise and materials, there shall be provided and maintained within the building, adequate space for standing, loading and unloading in order to avoid undue interference with the use of streets or alleys. Each space shall consist of a ten (10) by forty-five (45) foot loading space with fourteen (14) foot height clearance. In a C-1 or C-2 District, for a building containing less than 3,000 square feet of gross floor area, a combined parking and loading area shall be acceptable in an M-1 District, a separate loading area, located in such manner that trucks are completely off of the City street right of way during the loading and unloading process shall be required.
9407. LANDSCAPING. SCREEN: M-1. Industrial establishments in the M-1 zone, abutting a street which is a residential zone boundary shall establish and maintain a landscaping screen not less than ten (10) feet wide, consisting of a compact screen of evergreen shrubbery, a less than six (6) feet in height. A six (6) foot wide landscaping screen shall be constructed on the setback line.
Where a six (6) foot masonry wall exists on the residential property line, which is a non-residential lot, or in one (1) foot of said property line, the required six (6) foot masonry wall may be replaced by a landscaping screen not less than ten (10) feet wide, which shall be installed and maintained.
Where M-1 industrial property abuts residential property there shall be six (6) foot masonry wall, the required landscaping screen shall be installed and maintained.
Where a non-residential lot is contiguous to the boundary line of a residential zone, the side or rear yard which is a residential zone shall have a minimum width of twenty (20) feet from the boundary line of the residential zone.
9409.2. OFF-STREET PARKING REQUIREMENTS.
Off-street automobile storage shall be required for all buildings and all uses at the following minimum parking space for each 800 square feet of gross floor area, and in one (1) space for each 200 square feet of open lot area, whichever yields the greater number of spaces. Each off-street parking space shall be a minimum of twenty (20) feet, and, in computing the number of spaces required, any fraction of a space shall constitute one additional space. A 11 parking area shall be surfaced with concrete, brick, asphalt or asphalt surfacing to prevent emanation of dust. All parking spaces shall be demarcated with white stripes along the sides and minimum of nine (9) feet apart; and concrete wheel stops shall be installed in all parking spaces.
9417. BUILDING SITE AREA.
No specifications except as provided by Section 9417.
9417.1. LOT WIDTH AND DEPTH.
Minimum lot width shall be one hundred (100) feet. Minimum lot depth shall be one hundred (100) feet.
9418. FRONT YARD.
No building shall be erected closer than twenty-five (25) feet from the front property line. Parking bays, on minor streets only, shall be permitted within the front yard or street side yard, provided the entire parking bay is located on private property. A planting area of a minimum of four (4) feet in width, parallel to the curb and back to the property line, set off by a concrete curb, shall be provided at the intersection of each lot or building site and shall be landscaped with a minimum of one (1) tree per lot with a minimum height of ten (10) feet, with the rest of the area in suitable ground cover, except for the planting area, which shall conform to City height standards, with all planting subject to the approval of the Architectural Advisory Committee. There shall be an adequate water supply installed in the planting area and said planting area shall be properly maintained by the property owner.
No building shall be erected closer than twenty-five (25) feet is hereby added to Division 9 of the "Palm
